"Life is like a box of chocolates: you never know 'whacha' gonna' get." --Forest Gump. Honestly, do you think you can predict your glorious high school years? Of course not: "It's Something...Unpredictable." This year has been full of choices, opportunities, responsibilities, laughter, boredom, trouble, and so much more. There have been so many unpredictable moments and even more unforgettable ones. For some of us this year was just another year, for some it was one year closer to getting out, and to others it was the start or finish of something unpredictable. No one knows what is going to happen, who's going to win the game, or who's going to end up together. Even though things may not always turn out for the best, we still manage to pull through. Beyond this page are some of the still-framed, unpredictable experiences that many encountered while having the time of their lives. "It's something unpredictable, but in the end it's right. I hope you had the time of your life." Song lyrics from Greenday

It's Something ...

Unpredictable

1. Can you predict what's in your mail? 2. Grace stands tall and proud next to her unpredictable Indian twin. 3. Watch out for the unpredictable punishments of Mrs. Fox! 4. Kaleb Gilbert is excited to see the unpredictable mess inside his locker. 5. "Where's my locker? What's my combo? When does the bell ring?" 6. Is she expecting the boys' bathroom to actually be nicer than the girls'?

What was the most "unexpected" thing that ever happened to you?

7. The unpredictable reactions of Chase and Tyler and the predictable note passing and gossip of SHS.
8. CAUTION: NEVER PUT FACE NEAR BURNER!—may unpredictably blow up. 9. Being a principal is tough but dealing with freshmen boys is tougher.

"This one time I was sleep walking, and I made my way to my parents' bedroom. Now obviously I had to go to the bathroom, mistaking my parents fan for the toilet. You can imagine my surprise when I woke up from my urine hitting me in the face."

—Senior Kaleb Gilbert

10. He is actually going to eat that? 11. This unpredictable "man" seems to attract all the ladies. 12. In the wonderful halls of SHS, you never know what you'll say, hear, or see. It's ALWAYS a surprise. B. You never know when your candy is going to get stuck.

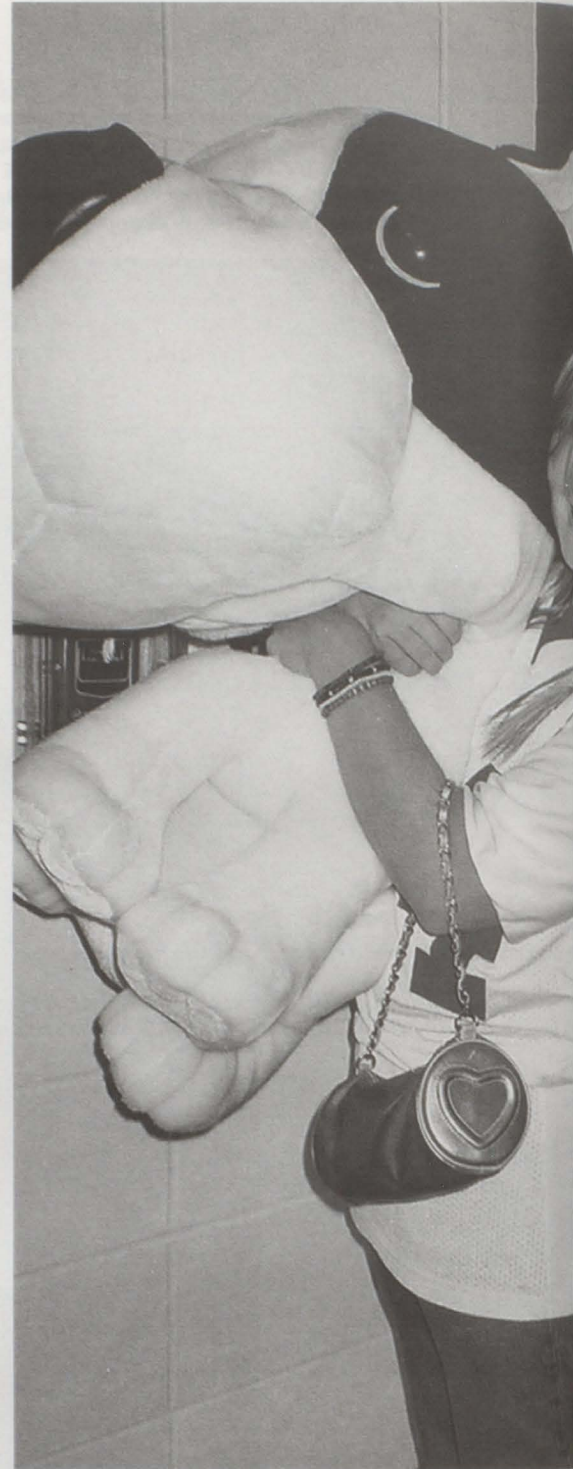

It's Something ...

Unpredictable

The "Unpredicatable" Years

Here we are seniors--finally graduating! We've been waiting for the day when it's our turn to walk across the stage--as we've seen many do before us. For some of us, this day couldn't come soon enough; for others, this day came too soon. All this time we have been learning about the world, the people around us, and ourselves. We will soon be going out into the real world; whether that is college, a job, or simply sitting around at our parents' houses watching the tube and trying to figure out what to do next. Our four years in high school have turned us into the people we are today. We've gone from our young and immature freshman year to our most deserved, mature, and adult senior year. Regardless of what we go on to do, we are now considered adults. Our lives are made by the people in our lives: the friends, teachers, parents and family around us. These are the ones who gave us all their support; the ones who got us to the point of graduating. From here on out, our futures are "UNPREDICTABLE". It is our turn to support the people around us.

Graduation is here
Ready to leave this place
Anxiously waiting to hear your name
Diplomas are received
Unpredictable futures await us
Anticipating our life
Taking it all in
Influenced by our inspirations
Out reaching our expectations
Now is our chance.

2005 Softball

With most of last year's players returning and 13 new players, everyone expected nothing less than conference champs for the Lady Indians this year on the softball field. That is exactly what these players and fans got! Holding a record of 20 wins and eight losses, the team posted yet another outstanding season. Despite all of the victories, there were many injuries that occurred. The ladies truly learned about the "no pain, no gain" saying. Junior Krystin Rakes and sophomore Christen George collided during a practice. The result was Rakes receiving 20 stitches in her lip. Chelsey Burleson was also knocked out by a foul ball at the Carthage game. The players went 6-0 in conference and Coach Lundien earned "Coach of the Year" again! Big 8 Conference selections 1st Team included: Lindsay Bellm, Krystin Rakes, Jamin Landreth, Chelsey Burleson, and Amber Zumwalt. Megan Roark was also Honorable Mention. All District selections 1st Team included: Lindsay Bellm, Megan Roark, Krystin Rakes, Jamin Landreth, and Amber Zumwalt. 2nd Team included: Stacia Sarwinski. All of the players worked hard all season and their accomplishments proved it! Senior Lindsay Bellm wrapped up her fine softball career with these words: "In my last four years of playing, I feel like this has been the best season I've had!" Awesome job, ladies!

PAVES THE WAY!

"Bump, set, hit, spike, that's the way we like to fight! Aww... Indians!"

Leaving last year's record behind, this year's volleyball team was ready to dominate. The Lady Indians vastly improved from last year with a record of 13-11-5. Senior Meghan Mayberry excitedly stated: "We had a lot more potential this year; and with everyone working well together, we did outstanding!"

Although the team is losing quite a few seniors and had no juniors this year, the squad is looking good for next year and the years ahead. The JV put forth a great effort and turned in a winning record of 12-10.

The Lady Indians may not have come out on top this year, but they learned to work well as a team. Coach Roberts always had to explain to the girls that: "Every ball is YOUR ball," and not to question who should take each ball. With the right mindset and confidence, and Coach Roberts' teaching, the ladies turned in a rewarding season. Good job, Lady Indians!

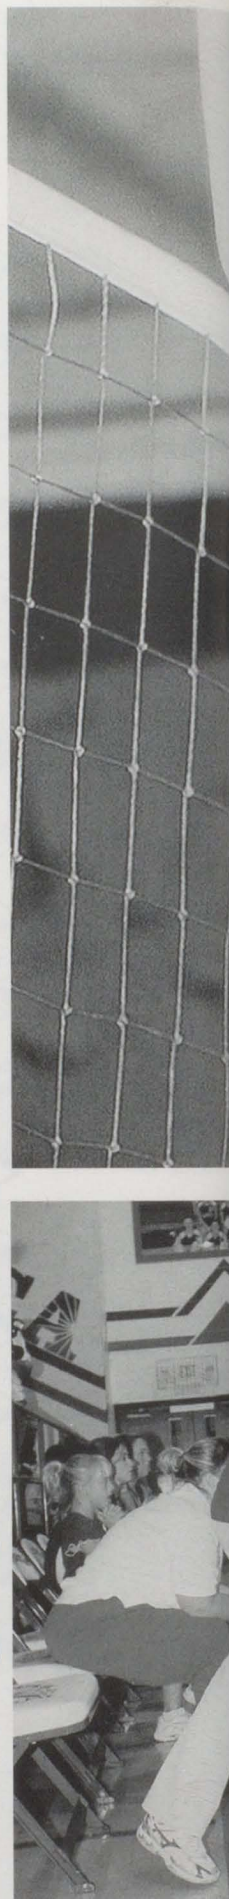

"Aww...boom, bye, bye!"

The Seneca High School Football Team carried on Seneca's "Tradition, Pride, and Class" by going 9-1 and being ranked as high as 8th in state. Coach Townsend stated: "The seniors did a good job of leading this football team. The football team reacted positively to adversity which shows the character of our senior class. They carried on the 'TPC' of the Seneca football program." Although there were many injuries (Joe Yust, Blake Scribner, Huston Brady, Roger Anderson, Skyler Rawlins, and Josh Day), the team still overcame and pulled through with an excellent season. When senior Joe Yust was asked what his favorite memory throughout the season was, he stated, "Seeing the crowd and all of the other players go crazy after winning the Monett game." The team can be summed up with the words of Trent Wilson (which he plagiarized from someone famous): "It's not the size of the dog in the fight, but it's the size of the fight in the dog." Congratulations to the football team of 2005. Good Job!

Homecoming is always an exciting week for everyone at SHS. The cheerleaders are busy decorating, the football players are preparing themselves for the big game, and everyone else is working on floats and dressing up for spirit week: Monday the famous "Sweats Day", Tuesday "Western Day", Wednesday "Bling-Bling Day", Thursday "Camo Day", and Friday "Spirit Day." Of course the candidates were chosen by the football players. This year's candidates were senior, Lauren Hall; junior, Amanda Smith; sophomore, Melea Cook; freshman, Brekken Spittler. Lauren Hall was crowned queen by her escort Joe Yust. Playing Carl Junction this year, one of Seneca's biggest rivals, was an exciting, tough game. By the end of the night, the Indians dominated with a final score of 21 to 0. Coach Townsend was very pleased and stated; "With all of the distractions that come along with homecoming week, the coaching staff felt that the players were focused Friday night. We felt that they played hard for four quarters." Congrats to all of the contestants and to the players!

"Make dust or eat dust" was the motto for the 2005 cross country season. With six returning runners and five new faces, all odds were looking good for the upcoming season. Then, before the first meet, Chantel Williams broke her foot leaving the girls' team with only three runners.

Most runners this year ate dust (especially Hannah) with the exception of a few, Caleb and Kaci Kuhn, who placed at almost every meet. They also ended up placing 2nd team at conference which qualified them for districts.

At districts, Caleb had an asthma attack dropping him to 22nd place and ruining his chance of going to state. On the other hand, Kaci placed 12th at districts and went on to state where she placed 144th.

Overall, the cross country team did an excellent job this year. Keep the words of Coach Wydick in mind for the future: "Keep running and head up!" This is Hannah Bell Lee, thank you and good night.

Girls' Golf 2005

It's been five years since the girls' golf program began at Seneca. In the first two years, the team qualified to go to state, and the past three years, at least one individual has gone to "the big show". This year the team consisted of Morgan Chenoweth (Tiger), Jessica Baker (Big Red), Raine Lounis (Hollywood), and Chelsea Scheurich (Mike Jones). Under the direction of Coach Holder (Salty Dawg), the girls "Got-er-done." Although, most of the time, the girls did not compete as a team (because they didn't have enough members), they worked hard at every meet. This year only one girl, Raine Lounis, qualified to compete at the Missouri State Championships. After a rough first day, Raine managed to finish in 27th place in the Class 1 division. Expectations are greater for next year; and as former Indiana Hoosier coach Bobby Knight once said, "The will to prepare to win is more important than the will to win."

I am never going to Hollywood Lounis

The senior class once again had an exciting win over the underclassmen in the annual Powderpuff Game. The game was held on a Saturday night this time, the twenty-ninth of October 2005. The candidates for this year's Powderpuff Queen were: freshman, Luke Balls; sophomore, Kilyn Nutting; junior, Bruno Picchioni; and senior Ansel Revel. During the week of the game, each candidate collected money in a can from friends at school. The money made was donated to Project Graduation. Ansel Revel, having the most money in his can, was crowned Queen. He was very excited and thought it was an amazing accomplishment. By the end of the game, the senior class girls were also very excited with their 28-22 win.

Mr. Volleyball

As the fans waited in anticipation, the 2005 varsity volleyball players escorted the four Mr. Volleyball candidates into the gym for the ceremony on the eleventh of October. As the team brought in all of the anxious boys wanting to be crowned, the fans cheered. Following the candidates was last year's Mr. Volleyball, senior Jerry Sparlin. When asked why they would like to be chosen this year, most of the candidates replied that they would like to follow in the footsteps of good friend Jerry Sparlin. The four candidates from freshman to senior were: Alex Scott, Michael Goins, Josh Sparks, and Huston Brady. When asked why he thought he should be elected, junior Josh Sparks stated, "I am an active supporter of the Lady Indians, and I haven't yet missed a game." As it turned out, senior Huston Brady was selected as Mr. Volleyball for the year 2005. He received his crown and was kissed by his girlfriend Meghan Mayberry. Moments before the ceremony when asked why he thought he was nominated as a candidate, he replied, "Because I am dating the hottest girl on the team." Boys' basketball started this year with the odds stacked against the team. With no seniors on the squad, the underclassmen had to really step up! Despite all the diversity the team faced this year, the team played well in certain stretches of the season and ended with an overall record of 6-20. Junior Erin Whitekiller said, "Even though it wasn't quite the season we had hoped for, I can't wait for the entire team to come back next year and prove everyone wrong." The Indians persevered through much and ended the season with few regrets in regards to their effort and hustle. They executed well and played their best as a team. Coach King stated: "Our 2005-2006 basketball season certainly had some rough times and was not exactly the season we wanted; however, I believe we as a team learned a lot throughout the year and we will be ready for a much improved team next year."

"I feel so honored that I was nominated Basketball Homecoming Queen. It was such a great experience that I'll never forget it."

Basketball Homecoming is always a very exciting time. The week before the glamorous evening, Seneca high school students let their spirit shine with various theme-based outfits. The day of the pep rally was spirit day. The Basketball Homecoming Candidates participated in a humorous game where each candidate put basketballs in their sweats and shot baskets. The big night finally came and the anticipation of the crowd and the candidates was intense. Finally, the candidates were escorted out by the varsity basketball players; and the 2006 Basketball Homecoming Queen was... Miss Lindsay Bellm! Last year's Homecoming Queen, Tashina Mailes, presented Queen Lindsay with her crown, and junior basketball player Patrick McGriff presented her with roses and a very "traditional" kiss. When Lindsay was asked how it felt to be nominated queen, she replied, "It's exciting and I feel honored that they picked me!" Although the basketball team was defeated by Monett, the night ended well with the traditional Homecoming Dance. Congratulations, Lindsay, Basketball Homecoming Queen 2006!

Hard work and dedication were what this season was all about. With a new coach this year, the Lady Indians were expected to have a great work ethic. The girls spent a lot of time together starting with their 6:00 a.m. running practice, followed by another practice after school. Although some may say all this hard work didn't pay off with only a record of 8-16, others thought otherwise. Meghan Mayberry stated, "I thought we would have had a better outcome, but I think all of our hard work paid off in our last game, even though we did lose." The season consisted of a lot of very close games, although the Indians were not able to come out on top every time. The girls learned to become extremely competitive and gave every team they played a run for its money. Even with the team losing six seniors, the Indians are still looking forward to next year. Coach McClain said, "We ended on a positive note; we really competed and in reality beat C.J. Next season will be good because we will be competing even more, and we will have built off of this season." Good job, Lady Indians, and good luck next year!

Cheerleading 2006

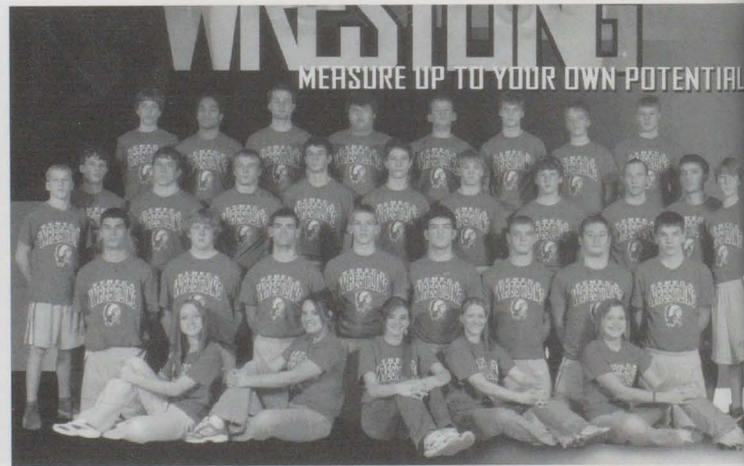

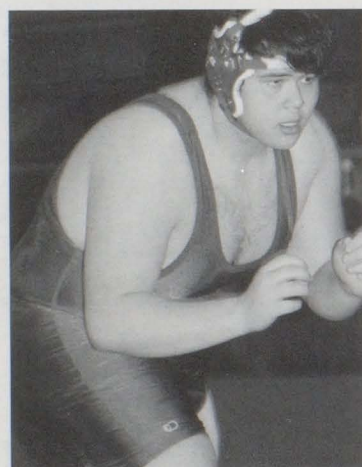

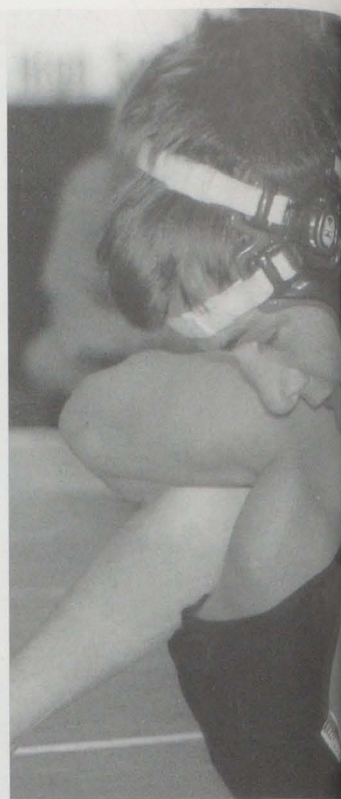

"Rah, rah sis boom bah!" It is not easy being a cheerleader at SHS. The girls do not even fit the typical stereotype: short-skirted, air-headed loudmouths. All of the cheerleaders also have to maintain a good GPA, stay out of trouble, and go through 7:00 a.m. practices! "Just watch those Indian warriors fall in line; they're gonna win this game another time" was only the beginning of cheerleading this year. The girls had to learn and sing the Seneca fight song at every game. This year's new coaches, Holly Elbert and Diane Durman, were there for all the dancing, cheering, and stunting the cheerleaders had to endure to come away with the title of Regional Champs 2005; the team also placed 3rd at state. The spirit this year at SHS was at an all time high! A pep squad was formed by the JV cheerleaders and many other students. They called themselves "Dirty Red" and cheered right along with the girls. The crowd really made cheerleading fun this year with all the involvement they showed and their enthusiasm. Next year should be just as great!

Wrestling 2006

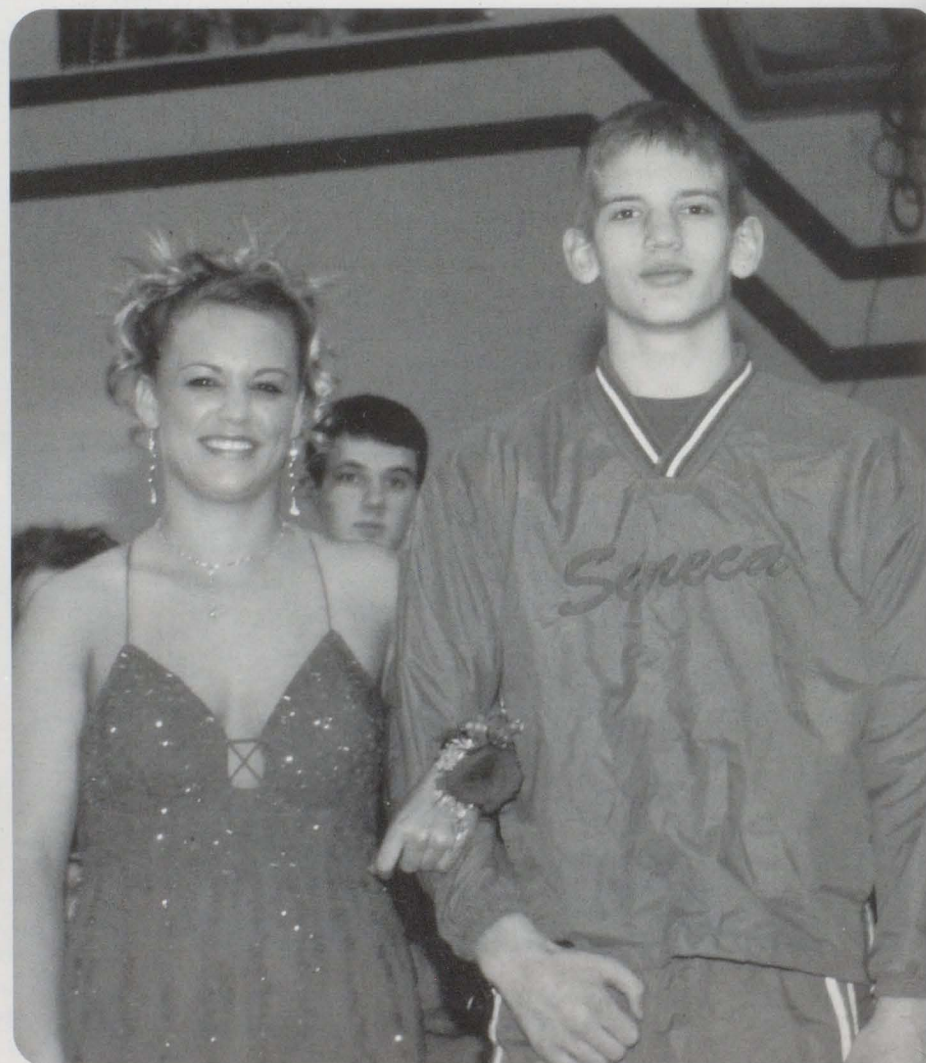

Dual after dual, tournament after tournament, and practice after practice, the Seneca wrestlers dedicated themselves in the hopes of success. Success that can only be reached by determination, sacrifice, and hard work. Pins, wins, overtime, blood, sweat, and tears all make this sport intense and self-earned. With seven state qualifiers, two state placers, team district runner-up, and a dual record of 7-3, the wrestlers pulled off a good season. Senior Joe Yust claimed his third state championship title and became a four-time district champ. He also was selected by coaches as District 3 Outstanding Wrestler of the Year. Sophomore Trey Burkhart placed fifth at state and was Academic All-State. The season can be summed up in the words of Coach Sill: "It was a fun run, especially watching Joe earn his third title and continue his winning streak. Week in and week out, we put a competitive team out on the mat--but injuries were a factor in our lineup. We fell half a point short of defending our district title, and it should motivate us into next season to earn back the title."

After all of the excitement of the coronation subsided, all the guys were ready to wrestle. They went on to win the dual 54-30! What an amazing night!

Two outs, bases loaded, and the crowd on edge is what baseball is all about. If ever there was a game with so much intensity, it would be baseball. This year's Indians completed their season with a 17 & 6 record. The team had four seniors and a whole team full of determined and skilled players. With this combination, the Indians pulled off a great season. They went to districts and played three games where they won two and lost one. They fell short of being district champs by one run to Webb City and claimed district runner up. Coach Mike Yust, after coaching Seneca baseball for 31 years, is retiring. He is well-respected and will be greatly missed. His overall record at Seneca is 370-212. Sophomore Matt Wilkes stated, "Sometimes he was mean and sometimes he was nice; but he never stopped trying to make you better, and he was always there when you needed help." We appreciate everything you've done, Coach Yust, all of these years and it will not be forgotten! Congratulations, Indians, for an awesome season!

It's the game that can't be won, only played. The boys on this year's 2006 golf team played this game to the best of their abilities. The team consisted of freshmen Colton Durbin, Conner Sarwinski, and Luke Balls; sophomores Tyler Patton and David Wright; juniors Corey Whitehead, Derek Keeling, Kaleb Turley, and Brian Wilson; and senior Bryce Crawford. This year three of these young men qualified to compete in the 2006 Missouri Boys' State Golf Competition. After two grueling days on the golf course, Bryce Crawford, Tyler Patton, and Corey Whitehead placed 21st, 62nd, and 117th out of 140 state-qualifying competitors. Golf is a game played on a fairway that's only five inches wide (from ear to ear); it appears that our boys mastered the demanding mental challenges this sport frequently offers.

Run, run, run--those are the only words you hear at a normal day of track practice. Nobody quite enjoys these practices as much as they do until the season finally comes to an end. Dalene Cook stated, "We worked a lot harder this year and it definitely paid off." The girls' track team was narrowing in on claiming the Conference championship, but fell short by only twelve points to Carl Junction. "Overall, this track season was a great success," stated Brittany Miller. There were ten records broken this year and several that were broken more than once. At districts the top four placers in each event are able to go on and compete at sectionals. Seneca was lucky enough to send six girls on. We are all hoping they do well and can continue on their climb to state which is held in Jefferson City this year. Great job and good luck!

Can You Predict...

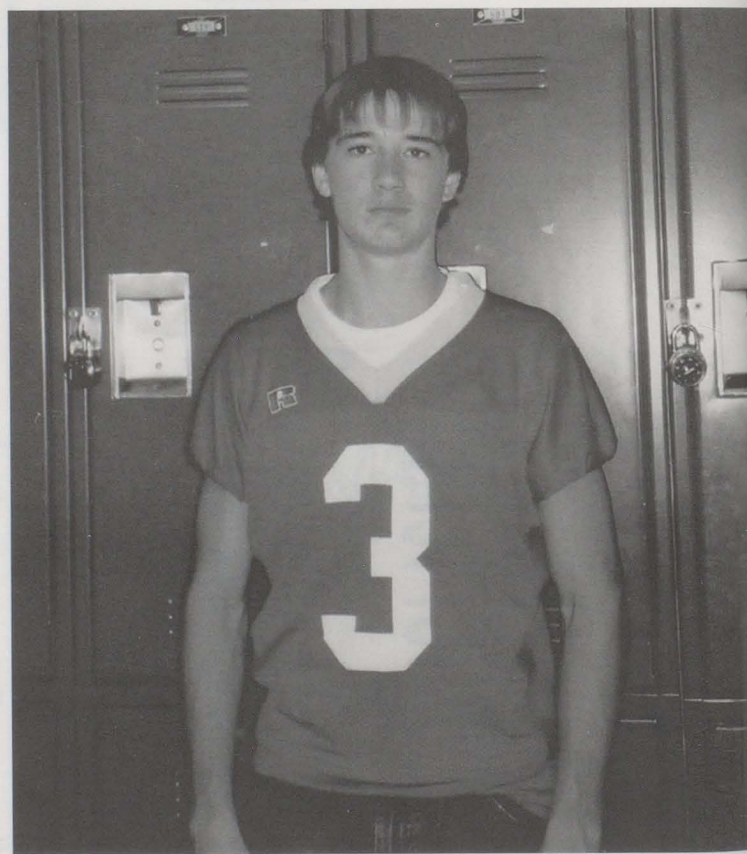

High school heart-throb Nathan Enyart + 20 years = "sanitation engineer". What are the odds that sweet innocent Lacey Stansill will one day turn pro in the wrestling ranks? Following in the footsteps of her uncle, Mandi Yust will be the next Seneca shop teacher.

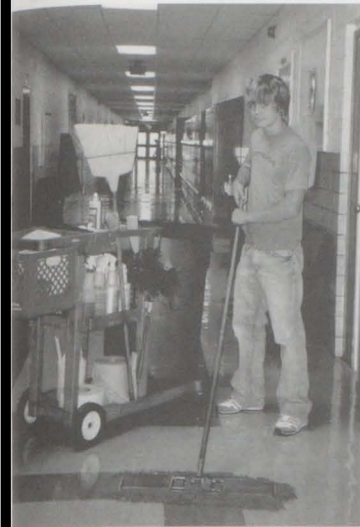

Who would have imagined that Mr. Macho Trent Wilson would one day become a seamstress? Instead of using his hands for his excellent drumming skills, Zach Ehrhart will be putting them to a better use: professional tree trimmer.

Be careful of what you throw away because one day Justin Staley will be picking up your trash. What are the odds that a self-absorbed teenager (Raine Lounis) would grow up to dedicate her life to community service.

20 Years From Now?

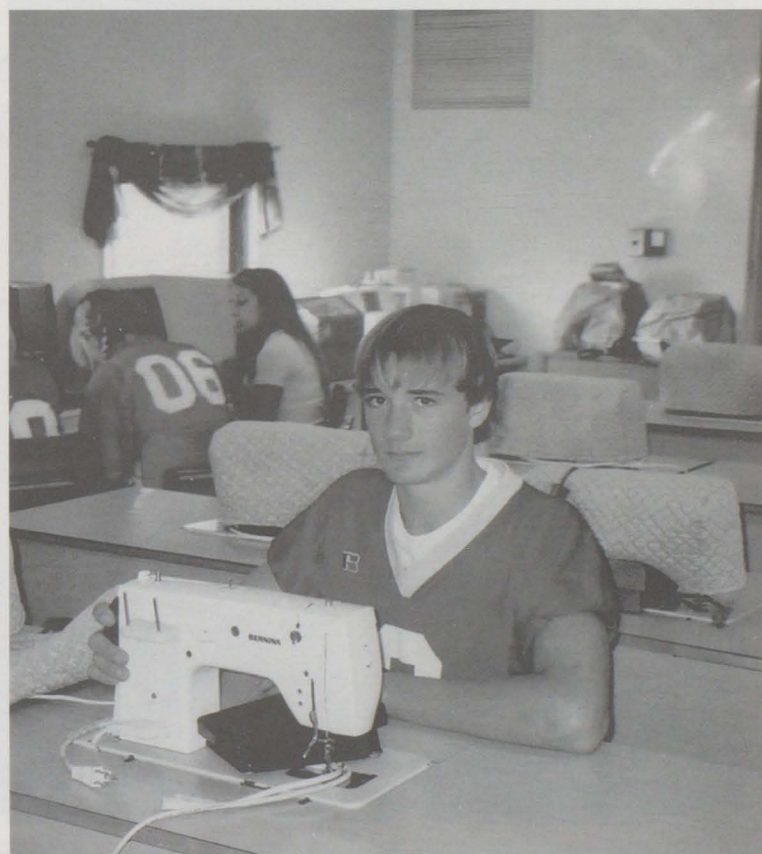

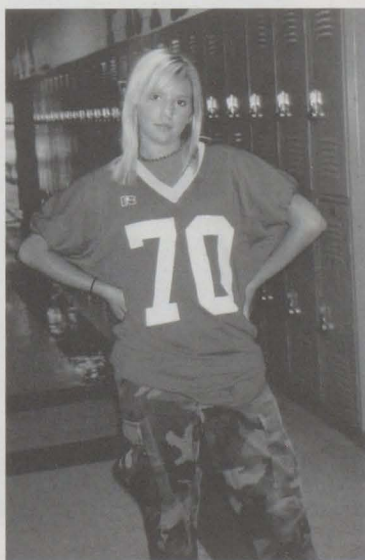

Looking around at all your classmates, you may notice that some are incredibly smart. Others are very good athletes while some seem to have it all. You always hear your teachers say: "All the work you do will pay off." But when will all of "THIS" dedication begin to bring results? After high school is college and, after that, the next step is the real world where you have to get a job. You may even wonder what you and your classmates will be doing 20 years from now. We've captured what we think these bright young individuals will be doing two decades from now. Can you predict the unpredictable?

Courtney Bay

Even though she cannot drive yet, one day Brekken Spittler will dominate the NASCAR circuit. The power of positive thinking: if you believe something with all of your heart, you can accomplish it. Take Morgan Chenoweth who will one day play linebacker in the NFL--watch out quarterbacks!

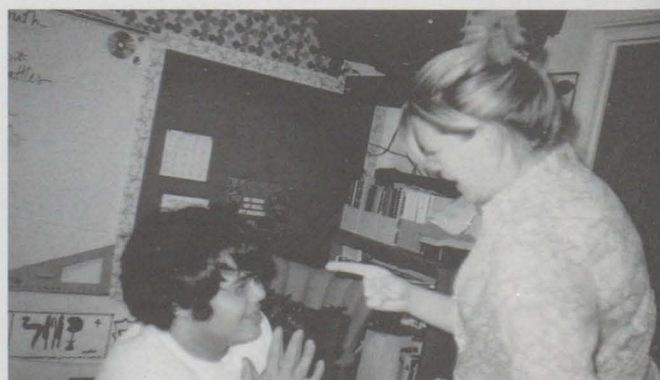

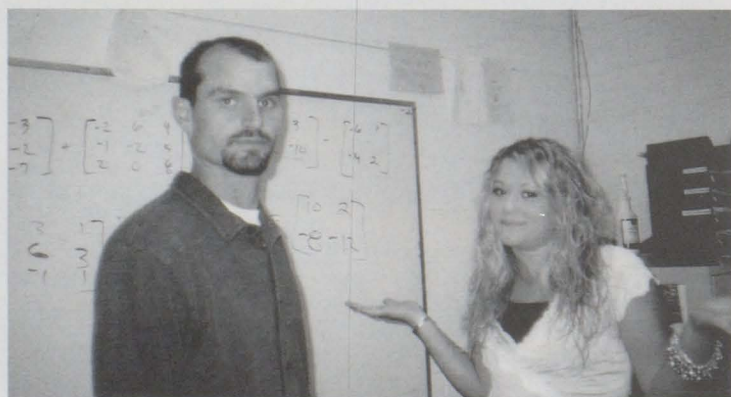

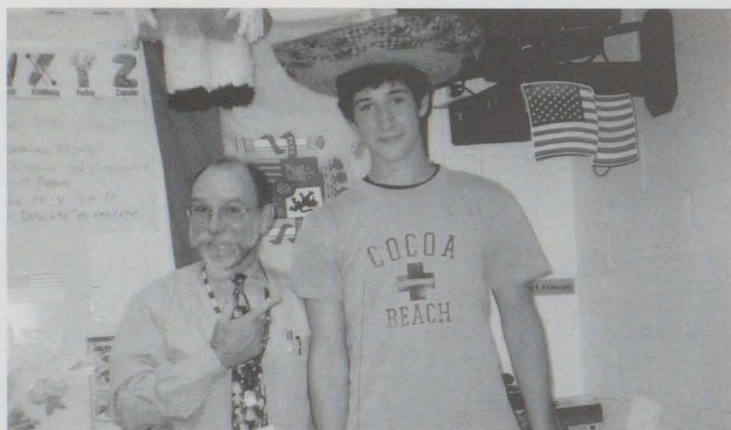

Have you ever looked around the halls of Seneca High School? Did you ever notice how completely different teachers and students look? You are probably thinking, of course, teachers won't wear the same styles or have the same characteristics as students. Well, what if these teachers and students who are so completely different were related? What if really tall students were related to really short teachers? What if smart teachers were related to...well, not so intellectually inclined students? Well, you no longer have to ask yourself these "What if" questions. Here on this wonderful page we have provided you with some very funny pictures of very unpredictable "relations." Enjoy!

Tara Gilstrap & Robin Gilbert

"Unpredictable" Relationships

1. Mrs. Roberts may act like she hates Jerry, but deep down we know she loves him.
2. Señor Davis is vertically challenged when he stands next to Isaiah.
3. Mr. Townsend feels like a super-genius when he's around Tasha Morris.
4. Mrs. Snider shows Shakira Rhoads what she's made of.

SIBLING

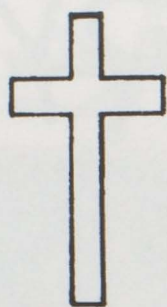

~~RIVALRY~~

What if you went through the whole school year with one of your siblings? Can you imagine the tension, stress, and annoyance? If you looked down the hallways of SHS throughout the year, you probably saw many different brothers and sisters (and you may have even noticed some of them have developed an intense rivalry). Rivalry comes in many different forms, but the most intense is usually between those who endure each other's presence 24 hours a day. These pictures capture some of the greatest sibling rivalries ever to come through Seneca High.

CUSTOM DESIGN TRUSSES

What if we (Raine and Hannah) ruled the school? Interesting question, right? That would mean no Mr. Wallace, no Mrs. Fox, and especially no teachers. School life would be extremely different and unpredictable. You never know what we might come up with or what might pour out of our creative brains. With the unpredictable minds of Raine and Hannah, you'd never know what to expect.

Some days we would issue commands on how you should dress or what you should wear. We might command you to wear sun glasses specially chosen to meet our rigid standards of fashion.

Don't get your hopes up yet, there would be classes to attend. Although these classes would be required, they would review everything you learned in elementary. Let's just say, you might want to pay attention during coloring time.

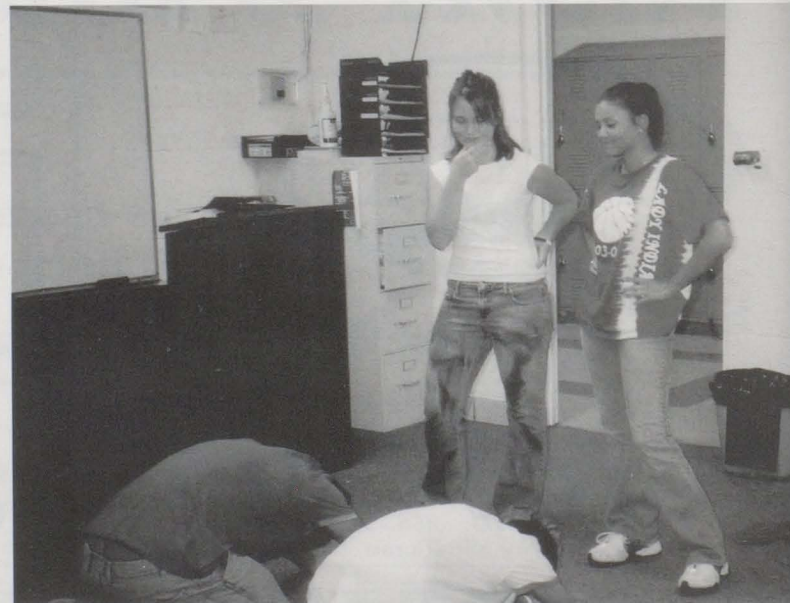

Life at school with Raine and Hannah would be great!!!

Captions for the top: Game Day will be a substantial part of your grade. Students enjoying "Snack Time" after school.

The "Unpredictable" Minds of Raine and Hannah

Although the stress is little, you can just sleep it off during nap time. Oh yes, don't forget that freshmen must "hail!" and bow to us on command.

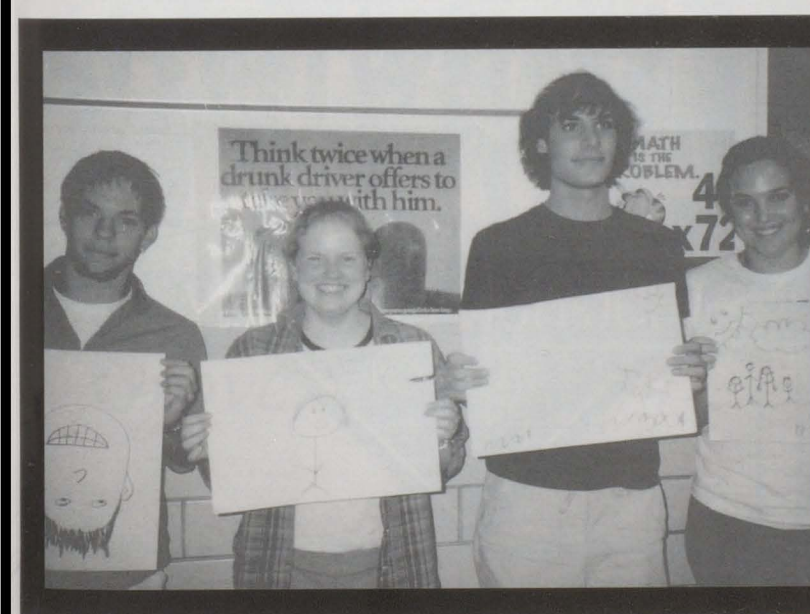

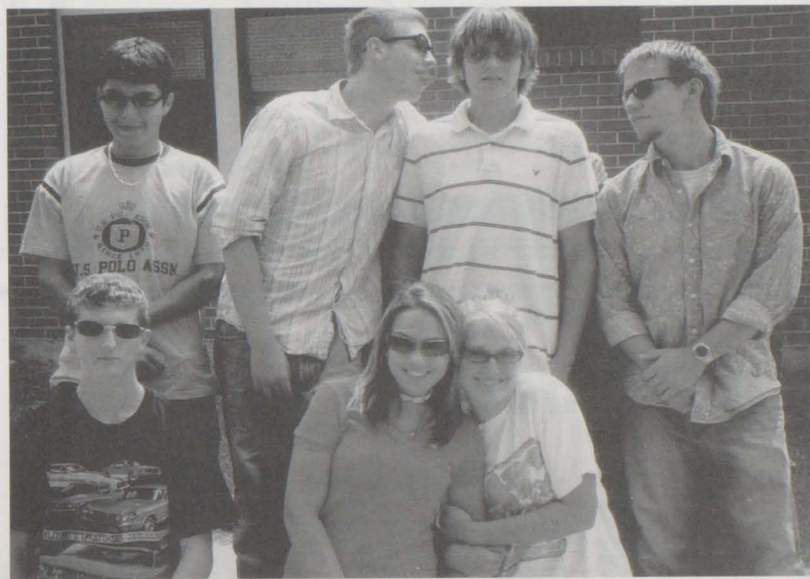

We may unpredictably... make you wear hats that will humiliate you. You will never escape our wrath!

On Wednesdays, there will be a time set aside for recess (all day). On sunny days, you will be allowed to wear sunglasses (chosen by us-- of course)!

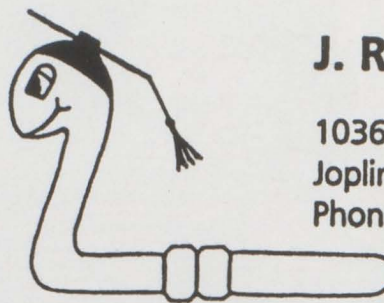

Yes, that's right, we brought it back! Coloring time. There will be a "Pass Class", where if you don't chose to go, you can pass on by.

The year is ending
there is much time to look back
we are out the door

Fun here and fun there shorts, flip flops is what we wear summer's just begun!

Time has come to leave
it was "unpredictable" hope you had fun, by!

Can't believe it's here
the end of the year is near more fun yet to come

It was Something ...

Unpredictable

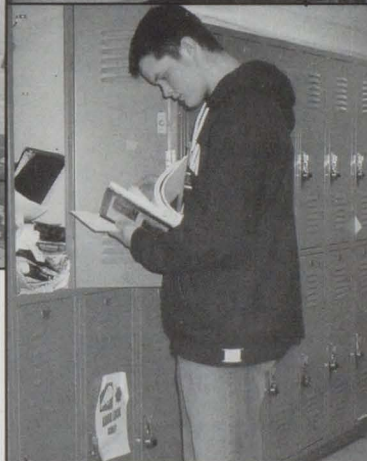

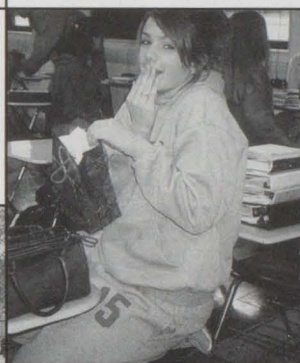

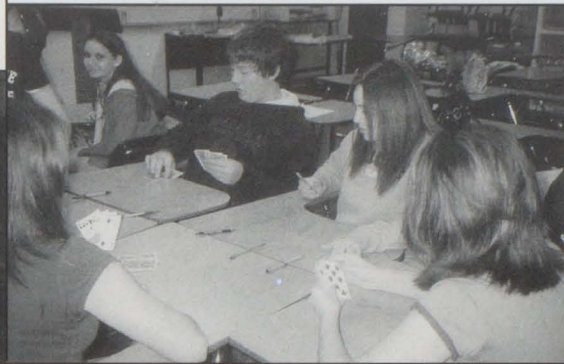

1. Some of the exotic aquatic life at SHS. 2. They'll let anyone teach these days! What a turkey!! 3. Gossip is never "unpredictable" at SHS. 4. No one can predict what is in the mind of the average teenager. 5. Mother Nature is always "unpredictable": a shroom circle. 6. Insert your own "unpredictable" caption here—surely you can come up with something good!

The Most "Predictable" things that happened in Publications this year

7. MASCULINITY on display. 8. You never know what "unpredictable" goodies you'll find in a cardboard box. 9. What hand will life deal you? 10. The joys of Christmas. 11. What "wheels" will you show up to school in? 12. Seneca "Friends". 13. Captain Organized, aka Chase Bryant, makes sure that all is intact before heading to class.

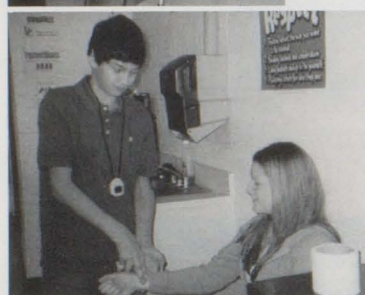

1. Raine & Hannah fighting "EVERYDAY"
2. Jennifer talking to herself/or nobody listening to her
3. Courtney and her sound effects
4. Mr. Page doing all of the work & making fun of everyone
5. Megan begging for cereal
6. Robin staring off into space and envisioning her NBA career
7. Raine cleaning the room
8. Tia tanning

It was Something ...

Unpredictable

"Things" to be THANKFUL for now that the school year is over.

Be thankful that a "miscalculation" in a science experiment didn't blow up the school. Always appreciate that you still have a pulse after the rigorous school year. The "Fonz", aka Kyle Grover, lets everyone know that the year was "two thumbs UP". There will always be a chair waiting for you at SHS.

Colophon

While sitting back at my desk with my feet propped up, coffee and cereal at hand, I was thinking about all those wonderful people who helped out with the 2005/06 yearbook. If you haven't already noticed, you are reading the "Colophon" which is an ending to the yearbook along with many thanks. This advisor feels that a little credit here and a little credit there is necessary.

To my dearest Mrs. Dianne Miller, thank you for all those long hours you spent slaving away with a red pen, correcting all (not that many) of our mistakes. Your contribution every year allows us to maintain a certain level of perfection. To the lovely ladies in the office, Bonnie and Tracie, thanks for all the times you have assisted us in any way imaginable. Sorry the girls bothered you soooooo much with their confused ways. Pictures, pictures, and more pictures--these wouldn't be possible without the help of the very talented individuals who captured the "unpredictable" moments throughout the school year. A special thanks goes out to Sherry's Portrait Studio and Patrick Meredith. The seven wonders of the yearbook, I wouldn't have been able to sit back at my desk with my feet propped up, coffee and cereal at hand, if it weren't for all of your stupendous amount of creativity and intelligence. I would like to thank anyone else I forgot to mention (sorry, I'm getting old and my mind slips me sometimes).

This FABULOUS yearbook you're holding in your hands was produced by the Herff Jones company, myself, and the seven wonderful ladies of the publications staff.
