Throughout our high school years, we make memories that can all be collected and reflected on in our yearbooks. Some of these memories are sweet, and some bitter, just like the different types of candy we all indulge in. As the year comes to an end, we are able to look at all the different memories we made and either laugh or cringe.

Left: Rachelle McKnight, Traci Gregg, and Brenda Mendez are excited this is their last year of high school.

CANDY COATED MEMORIES

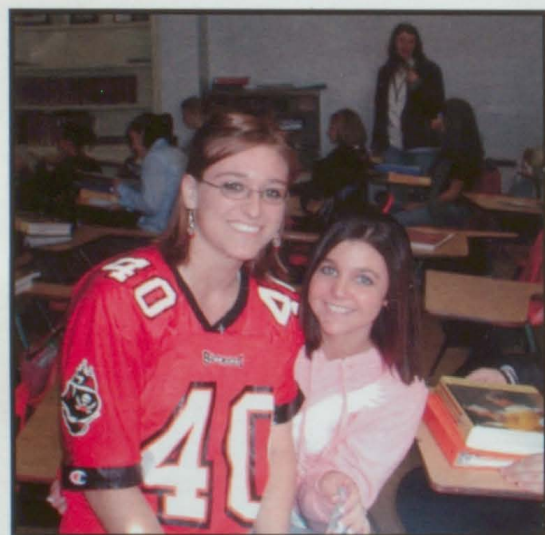

Carlos Maldonado is showing some students how they do things down in Chile. None of us will forget his smile.

Sara Balls and Jessica Wigant will have some good memories of being in choir together.

Crystal Lake enjoys playing games with her classmates - some teachers call this learning.

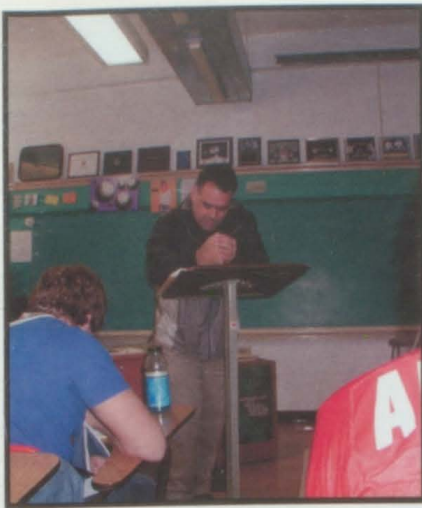

Lindsay Murray and Kassie Conner have what it takes to make a real friendship.

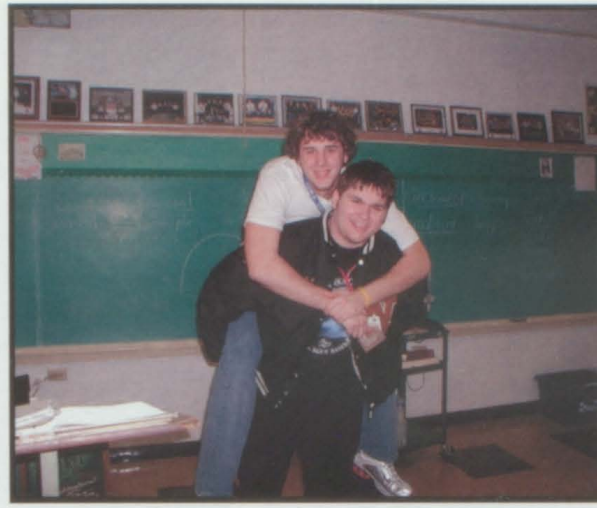

Tyler Anderson, Dexter Klier, and Kelsey Ray try to convince us they are the studs of the school. Well, we all have to have our dreams.

Dane Espinosa attracts a crowd as he hopes to get the wrestling team pumped up for sectionals.

Mr. Espinosa gets very passionate with his poem reading.

Phil McClintock and Andy Baker horse around, hoping it will help with their senioritis.

R.O.T.C members Cody Harrington, Lauren Dale, Brittany Marrs, Mary Grigsby, and Jesse Bennett proudly show the colors.

Brittany Anderson and Alicia Parker become great friends after being on the tennis team together.

The boys soccer team comes together before their game to get ready for their competition.

Football Homecoming Queen Karisa Parks is being escorted by her dad after being crowned.

It was hard to get a group shot of everyone who dressed up for Homecoming week, because so many got into the spirit this year.

The Freshmen cheerleaders prove they have spirit at the Basketball Homecoming pep assembly.

Our school police car, designed by Angela Coie, shows the community's support of NHS sports events.

Abigail Williams, Jake Dumond, and Fallon Reed get in a quick conversation before heading to 7th hour.

Yuliana shows the Spanish class some of the many things she knows about her native heritage.

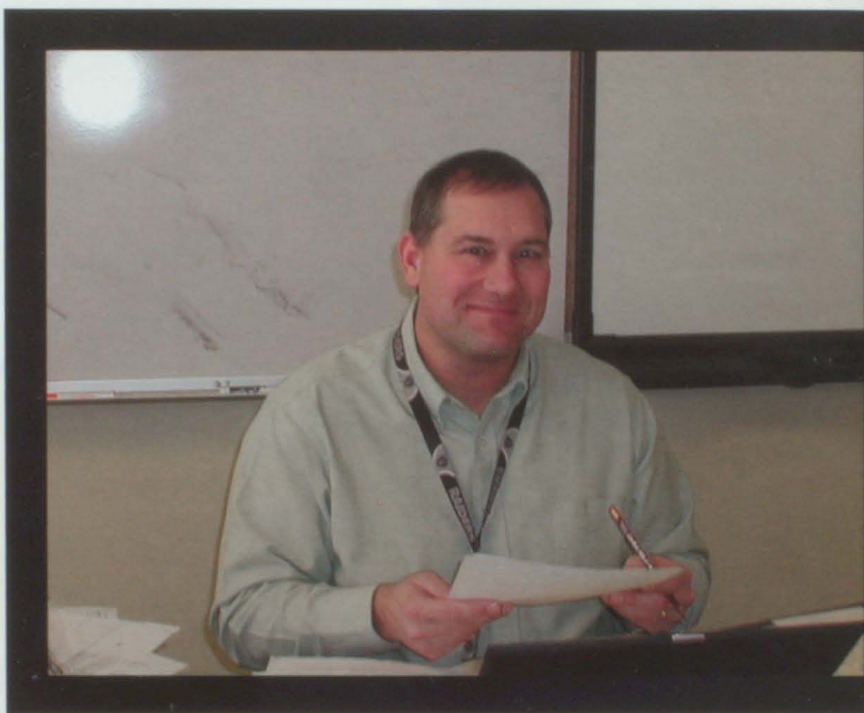

David Elliott, this year's dedication recipient, was born in Holden, Kansas on February 16, 1961 to two wonderful parents: Barry and Patti. The family also includes an older brother, Richard, and a younger brother, James. He attended high school at Fort Scott, and went on to receive his bachelors and masters degrees from Pittsburg State University. He has now been teaching for 21 years, 20 of these years have been here at Neosho. He finds teaching exciting, especially when he sees individuals accept challenges and excel. He says one of the greatest things to happen to him is having children, because you no longer put yourself first – or second. He and his wife Kim have 3 boys: Christopher, Hunter, and Dawson. He enjoys all sports, including: football, wrestling, basketball, and baseball. Besides coaching, sailing and fishing are the activities he enjoys most. Mr. Elliott also won several awards, such as Wal-Mart 2004 Teacher of the Year, Channel One 1999 Teacher of the Year finalist, District Wrestling Coach of the Year – twice, and the 1987 Outstanding Young American Award. He has also coached the Solar Bike Team to National Championship and World Championship in 1997 and was recently nominated for the 2005 Monsanto Teacher of the Year. Mr. Elliott left NHS after this year to persue a career in pharmaceutical medicines and hopes to eventually enter the field of medical research - to find a cure for types of juvenile cancers. We all know that he is self-motivated enough to do it, too.

Mr. David Elliott

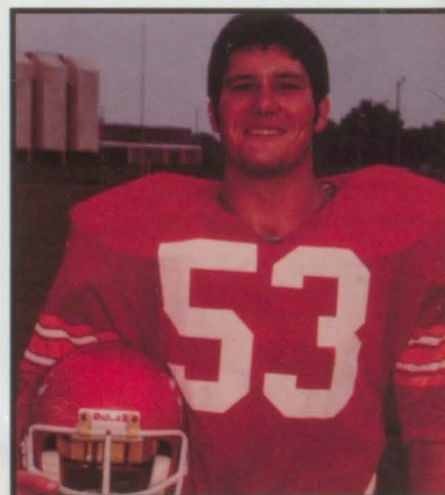

Even at an early age, Mr. Elliott had mastered that smile that we all know so well.

When grading papers becomes overwhelming, Mr. Elliott gives a smile to let us know that students are the most important part of his job.

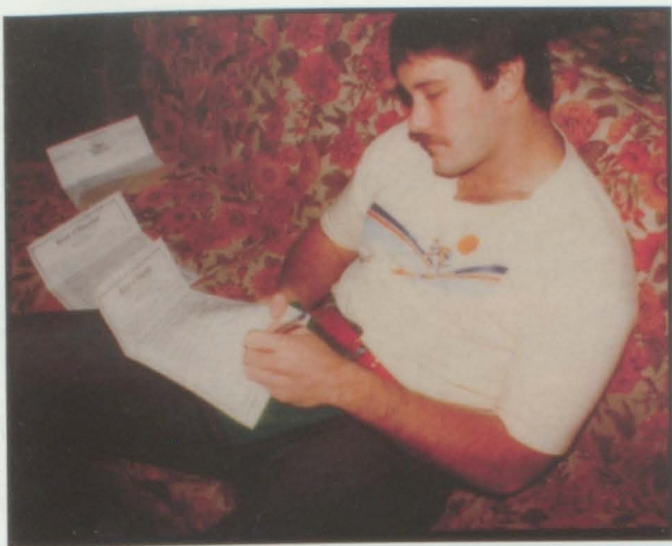

Left: Being a team player starts off the field. Mr. Elliott [back row, third from right] attended football camp at KU.

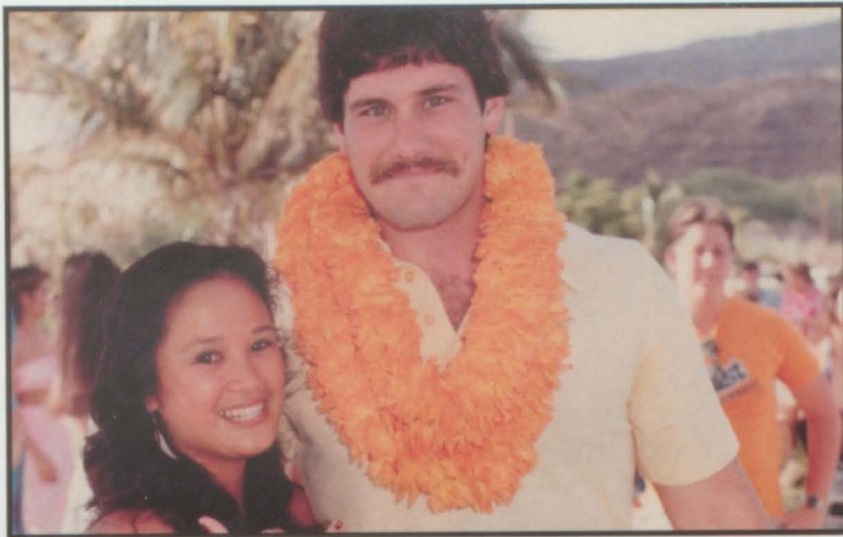

Right: This PSU foot ball uniform was an easy fit for some one who loves sports as much as Coach Elliott.

Mr. Elliott is signing his first teaching contract. Neosho High School is fortunate that he continued to sign on here for 20 years of his career.

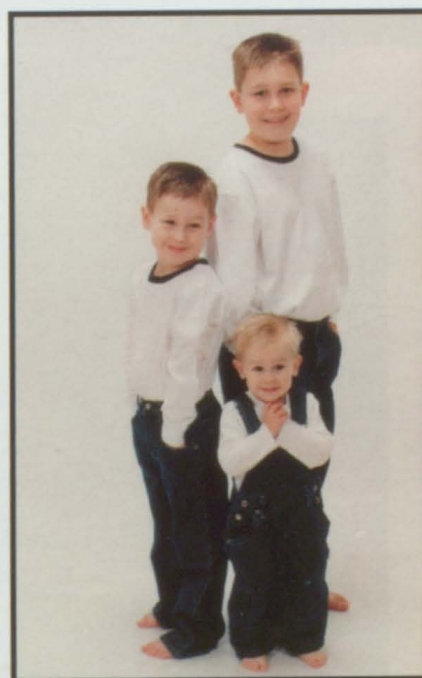

A trip to Hawaii brought a smile to Mr. Elliott's face - and some extra hair to his upper lip. Maybe he was Tom Selleck's stunt double from Magnum P.I.?

This wedding photo captured a very special memory for Kim and David Elliott.

This photograph was taken during the summer of 2001. The happy couple have not changed much over the years together.

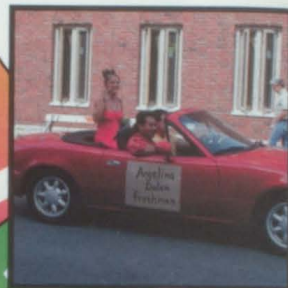

Christopher, Hunter, and Dawson are three of David and Kim's favorite people

These photographs of Mr. Elliott's early days show a well fed, playfull, outdoor-fun-loving young man that grew up to become the teacher, coach and friend eveyone enjoys knowing.

Charlotte's Web is a wonderful play written by Joseph Robinette, modified from the book written by E.B. White. This is an original play and is enjoyed by everyone, from the kindergartners to patrons of the community. Under the direction of Mrs. Nielsen, it is the story of a small pig who grows up to do great things and to have excellent experiences. Wilbur is assisted along the way by his true friends: Fern, Charlotte, and the other farm animals, who fool the Zuckermans into thinking he is "Some Pig." It displays true friendship, the ultimate sacrifice, and new beginnings.

CHARLOTTE'S WEB

The Cast comes out for their curtain call and to execute the famous bow, almost perfectly.

Charlotte's Web seemed very realistic with a few ingeniously placed pieces of velcro & yarn.

Mrs. Nielsen makes notes for this scene.

The Sheep reveals "the great conspiracy" to Wilbur.

Wilbur's family and friends look at him with admiration for winning his beautiful new metal.

Kristen Edsell and Chelsey Cole look absolutely radiant in their costumes.

Ladies and Gentlemen, for your exclusive entertainment, a first time appearance by the one, the only, the unshakable Crew!

The Seniors of Charlotte's Web flash us a smile for their bitter-sweet goodbye to the Fall Play. We will miss their antics just as much as their talents.

Mary Easley, Nichole Letts, Trisha Fullerton, Joe Hunter, and the rest of the cast and crew listen to Mrs. Nielsen read her legal pad of critiques after final dress rehearsal.

The Spring Play chosen this year was Cheaper by the Dozen. The story features a young girl, Anne, who is growing up before her family's eyes. However, her father's focus is trying to run his family like his work - with "industrial efficiency." While the story is full of laughs and moments of chaos, there is a serious side as well. Father has a heart condition and is hoping to create a home with more order and less disarray. Anne is just wanting to be treated like an adult.

CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN

Left: Anne's first date was with a cheerleader, but Mr. Gilbreth scares him away after his routine.

Right: Mr. Gilbreth couldn't say "no" to that face.

Just the fact that Larry forgave Anne for trying to kill him shows that it is true love.

Ernestine and Anne are sisters as well as best friends.

The cast comes together for a very orderly picture. These quiet moments were not often in the story.

All of the kids love Mrs. Fitzgerald, and her ice cream.

Dr. Burton tries to talk some reason into Mr. Gilbreth about his heart problems.

When Anne got her first phone call from a boy, it was a family event.

The Football Homecoming theme for 2004 was "Wildcats Steal The Pirate's Treasure." The Spirit days included: Monday - Hat and Sunglasses Day, Tuesday - Hillbilly Day, Wednesday - Hippy Day, Thursday - Dress like a pirate Day, Friday - Spirit Day, wear black and gold. This year we had a community Homecoming parade. All the students in the district 'stole' some time out of class and enjoyed a spectacle of entertainment and floats. Looks like everyone treasured the time out of school.

Left: The queen candidates, attendants, and their escorts take their place on the platform before the introductions began.

Right: The FFA proudly displaying their float. But where are the horses they are so well known for? Don't worry, they are at the end of this long parade.

WILDCATS STEAL THE PIRATE'S TREASURE

The spirit week winners were: B. Enslow, D. Altman, J. Morris-Archer, A. Baker, K. Boatright and Z. Stuart. Not Pictured: H. Stevens and Mrs. Gilstrap.

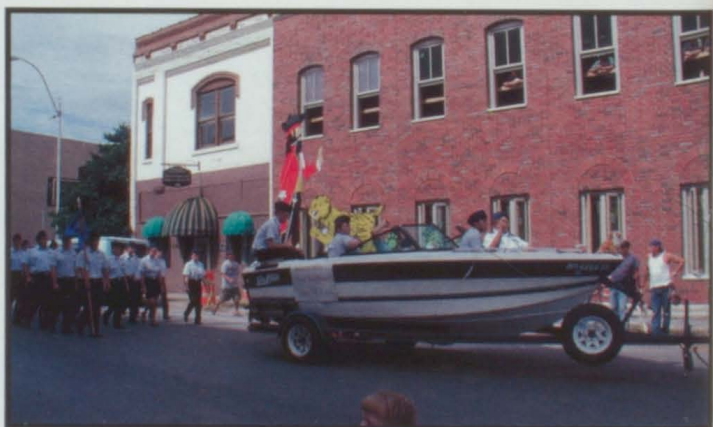

The high school cheerleaders lead the crowd in some competitive school spirit.

Seniors Sarah Jennings and Justina Morris-Archer show they have what it takes to be true pirates and have school spirit at the same time.

Neosho High School students can't contain their excitement for the homecoming parade, so they let some spirit out on the bus ride over.

The ROTC looks like they are taking over the pirates' ship with their original float.

Attendants: Angelina Dolan, Fr., Alex Ferguson, So., Chantel Woodrum, Jr.
Queen Candidates: Elizabeth Schelhorn, Sr., Queen Karisa Parks, Sr., and Abigail Williams, Sr.

Our school law enforcers usher in the rest of the floats.

The High School football team stands ready to lead their fellow students in cheering as they pump themselves up for their upcoming game.

This group of Senior girls show exactly why they won the spirit competition.

The Jr. High School marching band strut their stuff during the homecoming community parade.

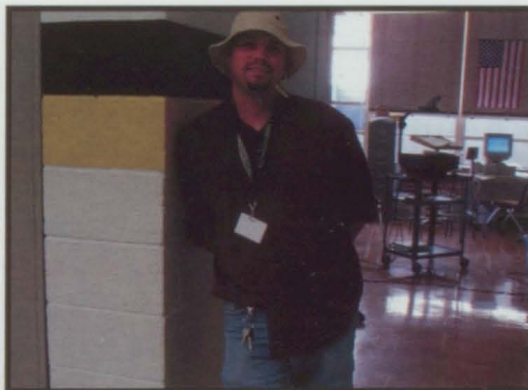

The Freshman recreate the movie "Peter Pan" for their theme.

Every student in Neosho enjoyed time out of class for the parade, including students from the Southwest Alternative School.

Mrs. Kemna shows us her hippie side on spirit day.

Mr. Crupper looks like a natural in his hobo attire.

OUTLIVE, OUTLAST, OUTPLAY. A Survivor's guidelines. To achieve that status, we must strive for greatness harder than we strive for life. We have to crave it more than anything else in the whole world, or we will be 'voted off' the island. This year, we chose to believe in this spirit. Basketball calls for this mind set as much as Survivor's players do, perhaps even more. It is a challenging game of brawn, as well as brain. We all know that as Wildcats we cannot achieve full satisfaction without winning, so we must OUTLIVE, OUTLAST, and OUTPLAY!

C. Malonado and J. Sampson say 'ya'll'. Mrs. Bentz & B. Miller are mathletes. James Giberti actually uses his camo. The 'Survivors' of the Spirit Contest

OUTLIVE - OUTLAST - OUTPLAY

So that's how they get the crowd pumped-up. Stunts are a real crowd pleaser.

The "baby-think-it-over" is a serious project for Child Development, but the hair on these students show the fun they can still have.

The Seniors' hall decorations took students to a dangerous seas full of pirates, for those who survived the trip.

Robert Guy is comfortable in hat and gitty-up.

A.J. Douglas shows off her pink hat.

The Juniors were voted most spirited. They had some cool hall decorations.

Spirit week winners are the greatest!

Left: Queen Lindsey Sarratt was escorted by Trey Niedert through the ROTC Sabers.

King Phil McClintock, escorted by Holli Sears, looks dashing in his lime shirt and tie.

Coach Austin, Officer Cruz, Mrs. Elsmann, and Coach Nichols really get into the judging during the slam dunk contest.

Foreign exchange student, 'Horacio', dunks with skill.

Trey Niedert leads two Wildcat cubs during the homecoming assembly.

Mrs. Gilstrap, Mr. Schibi, and the rest of the 'Survivors' prove their worth in the eating contest.

Willy the Wildcat shows us some real heartbreak, but then bounces back like a true professional: movin' and shakin'.

Basketball Homecoming Royalty: Fr. Brittany Anderson, Soph. Caitlyn Hines, Jr. Audrey Berner, Sr. Molly White, Queen Lindsey Sarratt, and Sr. Ashley Burr.

Cleo House: now you see him, now you don't.

Above: These Seniors impersonate the Magnificent Seven; but wait, where's the other two?

The Yearbook Assembly began with the introduction of the attendents, the candidates and the Queen, Amy Crumbliss. Next, Mr. Elliot was honored when it was announced that the Yearbook would be dedicated to him. Then, the Choraleer's dazzled the crowd with skill and bright shirts of the Movin' Out theme. To conclude the ceremony, the Jazz Band gave another award winning performance. It was another awesome assembly full of sweet memories and many talented Wildcats.

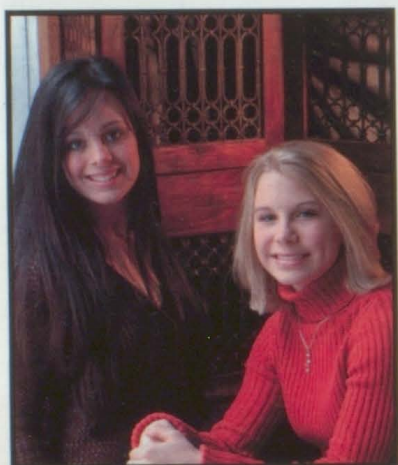

Right: The 2005 Jazz Band prepares to sound out some great notes for the student body.

CANDY-COATED MEMORIES

The Freshmen Attendants: Alicia Parker and Katlynn Baoatright.

Jerod Hay, Chris Dolence, Brittany Bogle, Josh VanWinkle, and Jacob Mitchell bring their trumpets to the front for a fantastic performance.

Look at those smiling faces, don't they just look darling?

The Junior Attendants: Tiffany Carlin and Enelia Rios.

The Yearbook Senior Queen Candidates: Megan Frenken, Jennifer Letterman, and Amy Crumbliss.

The Sophomore Attendants: Lindsay Heikkuri and Kali Millard.

Miss Ellison congratulates Mr. David Elliott for being named the 2005 Yearbook Dedication recipient.

Amy Crubliss was named the 2005 Yearbook Queen by the High School student. Congratulation!

Gavin Kelso loves to rock out with the rest of the band.

The Yearbook Staff rests and enjoys the assembly after two days of hard work and preparations.

Cameron Cody, Taylor Dolence, and Kendall Daniel sound great together.

The Choraleers finished up another great presentation of many talented voices.

K. Marshall and A. Cristy name off the Yearbook Staff.

S. Berg and K. Sharpe introduce the Jazz Band.

Left: Chad Kendal and the rest of the guys let us know that they REALLY want to make her mi-i-ine. Love the facial expressions boys!

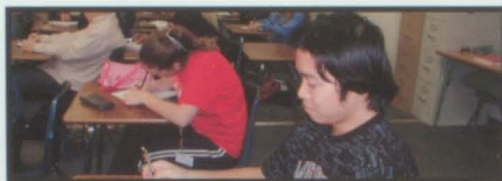

Alexandra Ferguson and the rest of the ladies harmonize about life and boys, of course.

Orbit is the gum that makes people have a whiter smile, and smile through hard times. Our four foreign exchange students have had to deal with new experiences in southwest Missouri. They had to leave their country and their families, all over the Orbit, to move to a foreign country, and live with a host family for either a semester or a full year. They graced us with their smiles all year.

Carlos Maldonado has been enjoying his American education experience at Neosho.

Tiego Moraes poses for the camera one last time for all to remember him!

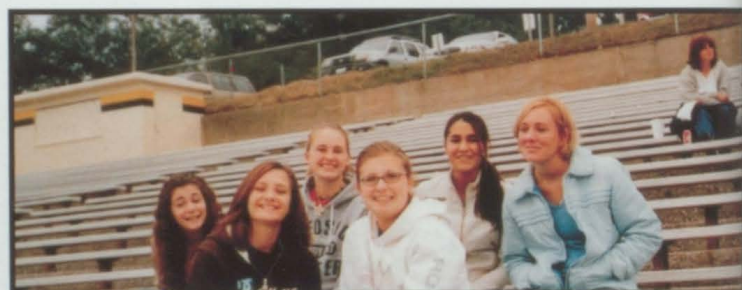

ORBIT

Tiego Moraes, Kritsana Nilkong, and Yuliana Zapata are enjoying an afternoon in the sun. Pictures are always a good excuse to get out of class, no matter what country you are from.

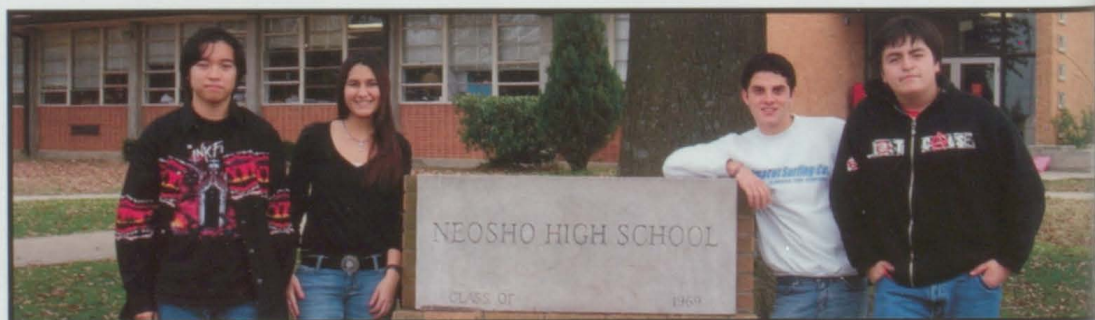

Tiego Moraes leaves the huddle to join the soccer team on the field.

A. Morris, A. Crumbliss, C. McDaniels, E. Secret, Y. Zapata and A. Leaf sit in the football stands waiting for the game to start!

Yuliana Zapata stops the Science lesson to include Mrs. Patrick in a photo.

Kritsana Nilkong, Yuliana Zapata, Tiego Moraes and Carlos Maldonado pose with the Neosho High School sign so we can have another memory to add to this year's yearbook.

This years 2005 Prom was titled Ever After. The prom committee made it a special place for all the Seniors and Juniors who attended. They had a chocolate fountain, a gazibo, and wonderful decorations. With a night full of dancing, carriage rides, laughs and memories, everyone had a 'happily Ever After' evening.

Left: Kimberly Crose and Kalan Allerton are enjoying their night of dancing under the light.

Right: Jessica McBride, Jonna Scott, and Echo Hartman are trying to relax and have fun!

EVER AFTER

Leandra Toomoth and Andy Baker were voted Queen and King of the 2005 Junior and Senior Prom

Nick Sharpe and his date danced the night away!

Tiffany Carlen and her date get ready to head out the dance floor to dazzle.

Mr. Blaney, Mrs. Elseman, and Mr. Jackson stand guard at Prom.

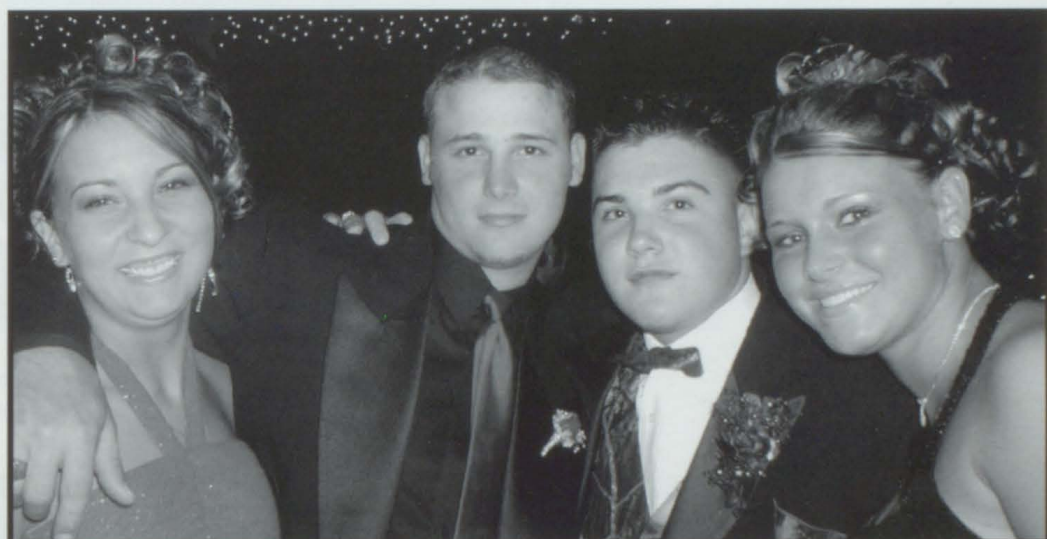

Robert Clark and his date are so excited to be at prom they just can't stop smiling.

Chaney Rugh and her date are having fun showing everyone how to dance.

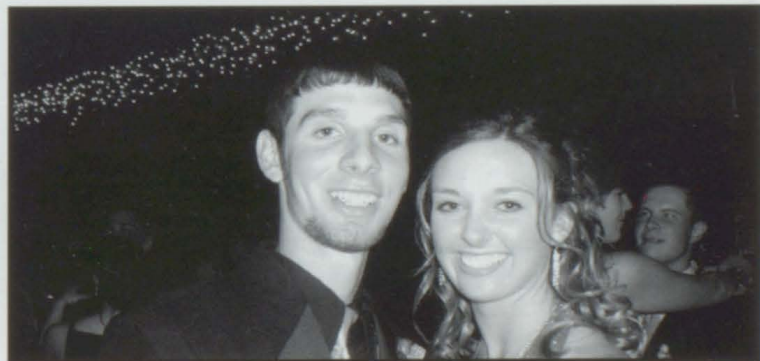

J.D. Jones and Kassie Conner are one of the many cute couples at Prom.

C. Woodrum, her date, C. Butler, and F. Tracy really 'clean-up nice' in their gowns and tuxes.

Hamilton Puangnak and Alicia Parker stop and take a picture before entering prom.

David Clark and Ashley Burr are thrilled to be at their Senior Prom.

Graduation is an event where many seniors have mixed emotions. At times you may feel like you finally got out, you actually made it. At other moments you may feel like you could never stop from getting all teary-eyed. That is where Tearjerkers come into play. Some of you may have heard of them, some of you not, but the name says it all. Graduation is something that has that same effect on its many graduating classmen, just the way a Tearjerker would do to you.

Graduation is an exciting time for all.

The seniors sit as they listen to their speakers.

Mr. Blaney stands with the Top 20.

TEAR JERKERS

Tracy Igisomar 'walks the walk' to get her diploma.

Gavin Kelso makes sure the door stays open so all the Graduates can exit.

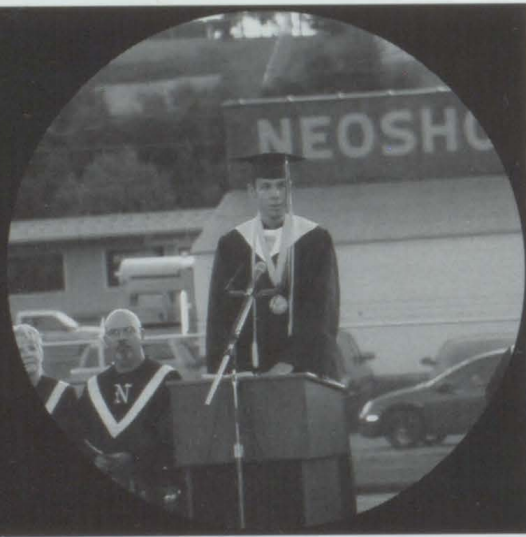

The seniors know that the Senior Assembly is good practice for Sat. night.

Juan Beccera receives his diploma from Mr. Fausett, then shakes hands with the other School Board Members and Administrators.

Valedictorian Dane Espinosa gives his speech at graduation and congratulates his peers at their commencement.

Salutatorian Scott Bartkoski also gives a speech at graduation giving the Class of 2005 the best of luck in their life ahead.

Ryan Childress, student body president, reminded the Class of 2005 of all the laughs they had together over the last 13 years. Tre Neidert, senior class president, waits to speak next to his classmates.

At the beginning of the 2005 Commencement the seniors marched they way to the football field.

Coach Elliott explains how life can go so fast it can be compared to toilet paper.

Coach Espinosa delivered a speech that inspired us to keep reaching for our goals.

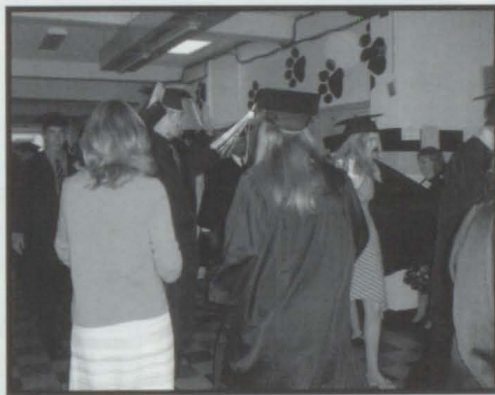

After the graduates received their diploma, they all went wild with 'silly string' and drenched each other as they celebrated their new found freedom.

Mr. Kelso led a spectacular performance at the Senior Assembly.

The senior choir members sang for us one last time at the Senior Assembly.

Mrs. Scaglione helped organize the seniors before they headed out of the building to the stadium.

The Class of 2005 were in cap and gown at the senior assembly as all underclassmen came in to get a glimpse of them one last time.

Painting Sr. Hill is a tradition that has been passed down for many years. Over the years many gallons of paint have been painted and poured out, layers upon layers. Like the Gobstopper candy, layers of colors have been added over a long time, although, surely not by the gallons. Gobstoppers last a long time, but not as long as the artwork on "Senior Hill." It will be there for at least another year, when the next class of Seniors leave there colors on the hill.

L. Toomoth and M. Frencken love painting together.

F. Farmer and K. Foreman add paint to each other.

J. Robinson works on his master design on a hot day.

GOBSTOPPERS

Life's a Beach. Does that mean we're suppose to relax every day rather than come to school?

A. Hawkins demonstrates exactly what her painting will look like. Good luck with that!

B. Lindsey tries to sneak up on B. Enslow, however, being the smart man that he is, he turns around only to get paint in the face.

Carlos Maldonado, one of our foreign exchange students, leaves a reminder on the hill.

J. Morris-Archer and S. Jennings sport out some dance moves while painting the hill.

C. Kendall covers up the shine so it won't burn.

M. Friend lets everyone know how happy he is to be graduating high school.

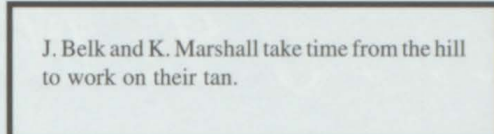

Some of the best memories were created on this hill. Not to mention all of the paint that was wasted off the hill.

A. Taylor, C. Lake, L. Haslip, and E. White take a break in the sun to smile for the camera.

C. Findley and M. Abruzzo remember their role model when painting the hill, the Lone Ranger.

J. Belk and K. Marshall take time from the hill to work on their tan.

M. Holloway is living proof that if one makes friends with rugrats, one will pay the consequences.

If you're on your way back down the hill, please be aware of the group of seven senior girls. They are having so much fun together that their exhilaration could be contagious.

C. Wallace has to make sure that his picture is just right.

Who can forget the seniors of 2005?

C. McGuffey and J. Giberti are making sure they get their artwork detailed to perfection.

In the words of Calvin, "I hate school! I'm not going to school ever again! I refuse!!"

What did the graduate say when he swallowed a light bulb? I feel light headed! HA! HA! LAFFY TAFFY is the one candy that never fails to make you laugh, much like our seniors. The graduates of 2005 had a super-duper time at project grad this year, which they deserved for the 13 years they spent coming to school and doing what seemed like endless work. Even though this will be the last time many of them will see each other, they will always have the fun and exciting memory of fun, games, friendship, and of course lots of laughs.

Right: Becca Wilson, Holli Sears, and Kimmi Martin were having a blast being together.

LAFFY TAFFY

Cadie Vermeersch and Caleb McGuffey were having a wild time.

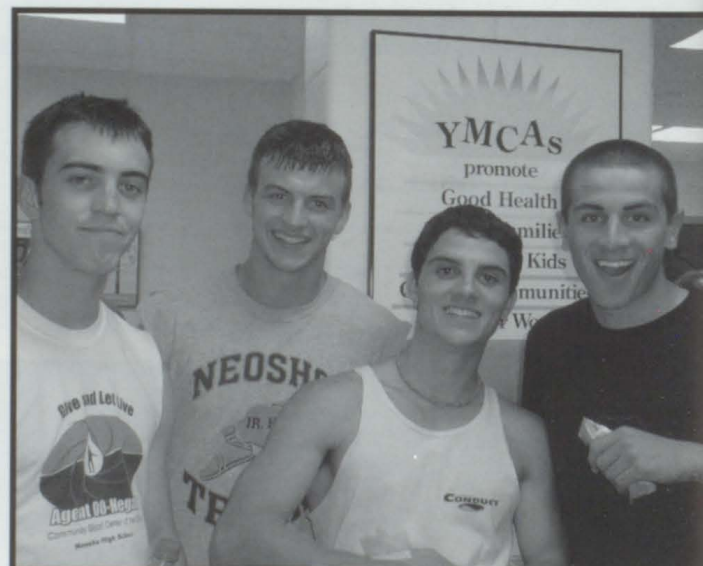

Matt Hollaway finds his friends and their antics hilarious!

B. Albious, and S. Spicer are getting a little sleepy.

By the end of the night Gilbert Chacon still had more then enough energy, while Scott Bartkoski just wanted to go to bed.

Aaron Mogan, J.D. Jones, Tiego Moraes, Aldo Valdez were just having fun hanging out by all the food.

Kelly Perigo and Aldo Valdez were worn out by all the fun they were having, so they decided to catch up on some ZZZ's before it was time to go home.

Shannon Kline, Joe Adams, and Nick Sharpe play bingo in high hopes of winning some cool prizes.

James Giberti holds Nikki Walters to make sure she doesn't get tired too quickly.

Andy Baker keeps hydrated before going to play some more with his friends.

Timo Bradford tries to show off his guns for the camera.

Genoa Johnson and Sidney Lewis were like fish; you couldn't find them out of water.

Cody Butler and Felicia Tracy pose pretty to get their picture taken.

Frank Hebert broke the latch, due to his strength, and ends up flying into the crowd.

"Back in the day" there was a really cool candy that looked like the top of a pop bottle and tasted like flavored soda. Several years ago, NHS started recognizing students for being a positive example in the classroom. They students a different in many ways, but share the same outstanding characteristics that caused them to be noticed by their teachers. They are the Bottle Tops of NHS.

Senior Survey Question

What is your favorite holiday/seasonal candy and why?

Candy Cane, It makes my breath smell better. - David Clark

Candy Cane, When I was little, my brother and I would suck on them till they were pointy and poke each other. - Audrey Covey

Peeps, They're nice and fluffy. Plus, you can put them in the microwave and watch them grow and go "BANG!" - Scott Bartkoski

Rice Krispy Treats, Oh Baby, because you can eat them everyday even if it's not a holiday! Let's make a holiday called Rice Krispy Treats Day so everyone in the world would be happy for that whole day just because of my idea. - Tyler Anderson

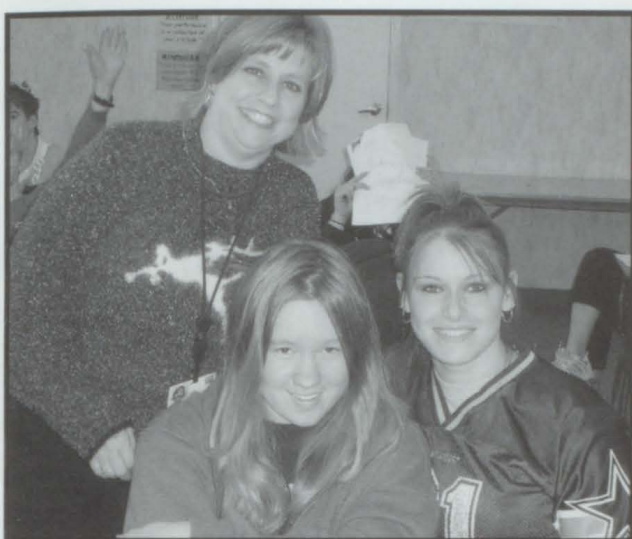

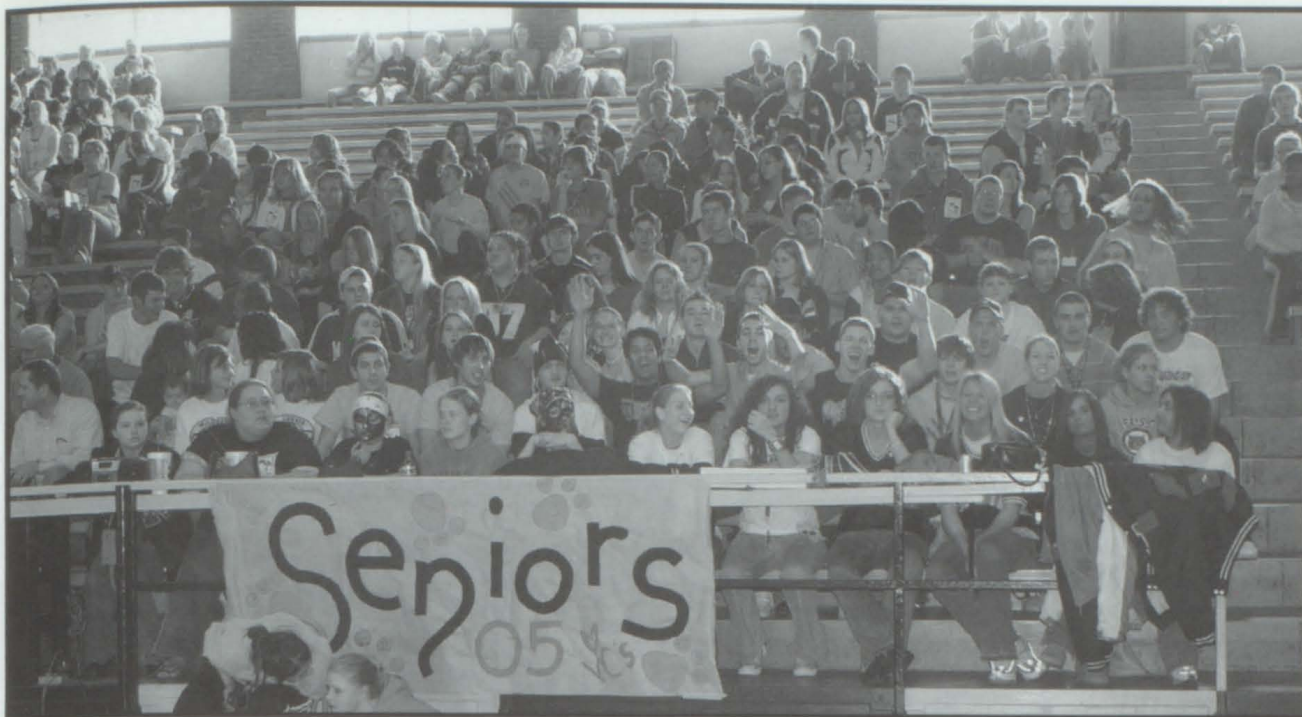

The top three candies chosen by the Senior class were Candy Canes, Candy Corn, and Chocolate.

Tyler Anderson and David Clark gave us some cool answers, so they get their picture taken.

Ashley Magdaleno: "Snickers: My friend ate a whole bag of snickers on the church bus."

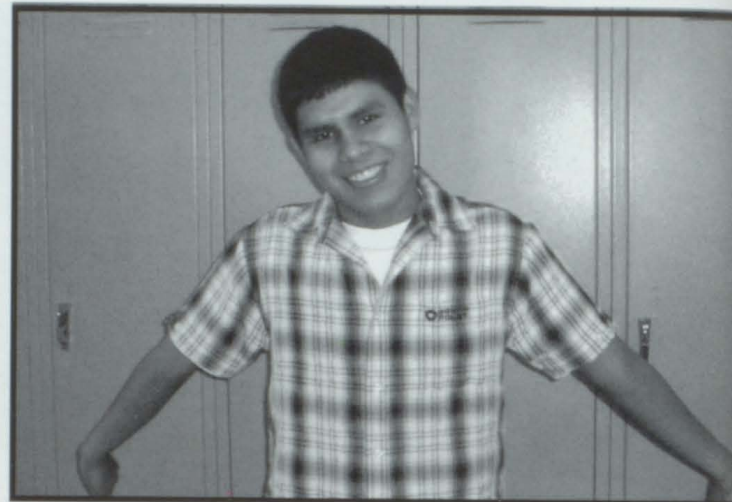

Ashley Wilson: "Starburst: My friends and I had a big bag, and it burst all over the car, ended up throwing them at the boys, which made a big fight. We found some in the like a year later."

WHAT CANDY BRINGS BACK THE MOST MEMORIES? WHY?

Josh Swift: "Hersheys Chocolate: Letting it melt in a friends hand while he sleeps, then tickling him with a feather."

Alex Anaya: "Snickers: I remember always wanting to get some and never having enough money."

Amanda Pitcher: "Chocolate: One year I had left some in my jeans and washed them with the chocolate in them. So when I got them back, I had chocolate in my pocket."

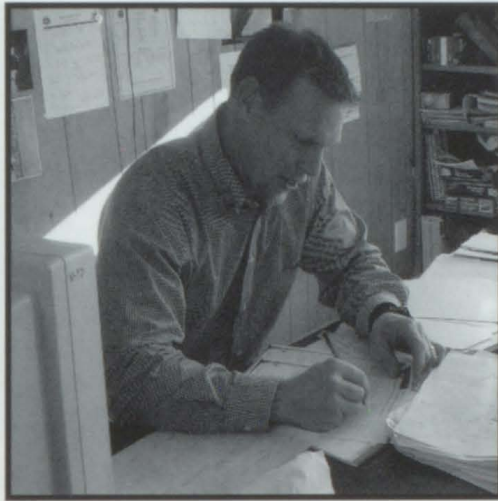

Crista Cope: "Whatchamacallit: Eeverytime me or my cousins went to my grandma's, that is what she would always give us. Eventhough we didn't like them, s ALWAYS had them."

We asked the sophomore class how many licks they thought it takes to get to the center of a Tootsie Pop, if they have ever tried it and when. Here are a few clever answers we got back.

Left: Taleah Smith:
"Two. Yeah, a long time ago when I saw it on TV I wanted to try it, so the next Tootsie Pop I got, I did it"

Right: Emily Shields:
"I guess we'll never know. Yes, a long time ago."

Kristin Hagens:
"2 + 1 bite. No, but the owl did!!"

You would think J. Staley, L. Farmer, H. Selman, T. Wright, and L. Hill would be a little more excited to get out of class for a picture.

FRESHMEN SPONSORS

We caught Mrs. Patrick in the hall. She is 1 of 14 Freshmen class sponsors.

Mrs. Richardson is also one of our sponsors.

Mrs. Kenny is a chairperson for the Freshman.

Mrs. Bowman is our second chairperson for the Freshmen class.

We asked the freshman class to fill out a survey for the yearbook that read: What candy, when you see it, do you have to stop and buy? Here's what some of the freshman classes came up with. . . .

Ashley Marble picked Skittles. Her reason was, "I love to taste the rainbow!"

E. Friends answer was 3 Musketeers. "The fluffy part just melts in your mouth."

S. Tindall picked Razzels. "You can't find them everywhere but what is better than candy that turns into gum!"

Jolly Ranchers are hard fruity candy that comes in many different flavors such as watermelon, grape, green apple, cherry and blue raspberry. So, for this we decided that Jolly Ranchers would go great with Neosho's FFA. FFA stands for Future Farmers of America. In the past, farmers would also be called ranchers. So why not mix some of the past with the present. After all, Jolly Ranchers comes in many of the flavors we can find on farms and orchards.

Left: Stephanie Story and Echo Hartman are two of the many Neosho farmers being awarded at the FFA banquet.

Right: What exactly are Tosha Goad, Ashley Bussey and Luke Earnshaw looking at?

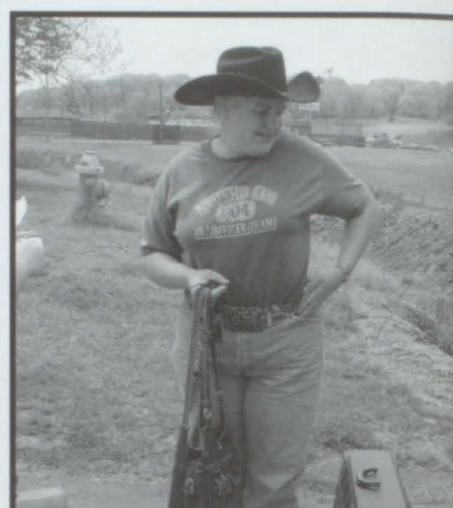

JOLLY RANCHERS

Kassie Connor had the privilege of announcing awards at the banquet.

Mr. Massey sure has gotten himself into a mess at Barnwarming.

Amber Taylor is ready for some competition!

FFA 2004-2005 Officers: K. Connor-Vice Pres., A. Bussey-Chaplin, N. Mayfield-Parliamentarian, L. Thogmartin-Reporter, M. Stafford-Treasurer, K. Wilson-Secretary, S. Nenneman-Sentinel, J. Scott-2nd Vice Pres., E. Hartman-President.

When you have a job, the one day everyone waits for is, of course, Payday. Similarly, people may wait all day to bite into a sweet, nutty Payday candy bar. In the business classes you learn important job skills, such as job ownership, business/personal laws, financing, and computer skills. All the things taught in these business classes help bring us closer to that big, sweet Payday.

Left: A. Hoagland and M. Tucker work to get their computer work done.

Right: Celia Reyes and R. Jamison are upset that they were interrupted.

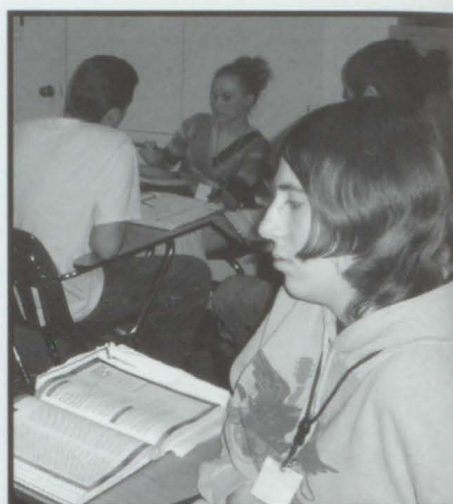

PAYDAY

C. Versluis and M. Vowell work hard to get their project finished by the deadline.

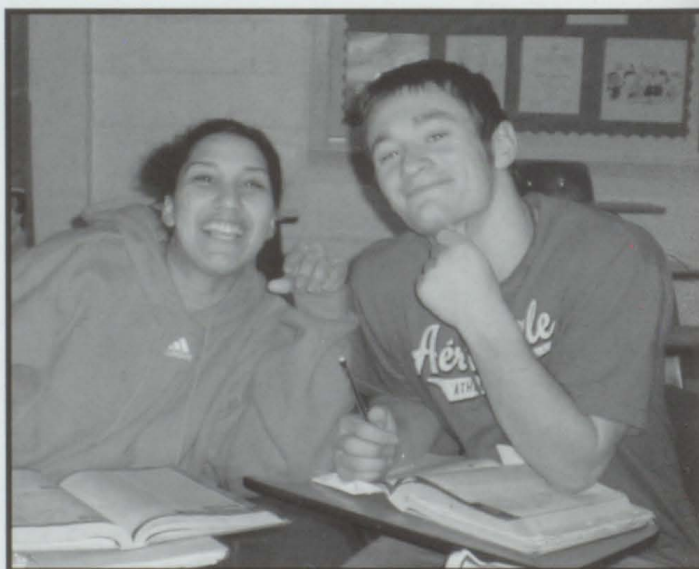

Elise White uses all her brain power to master her assignment in computer class.

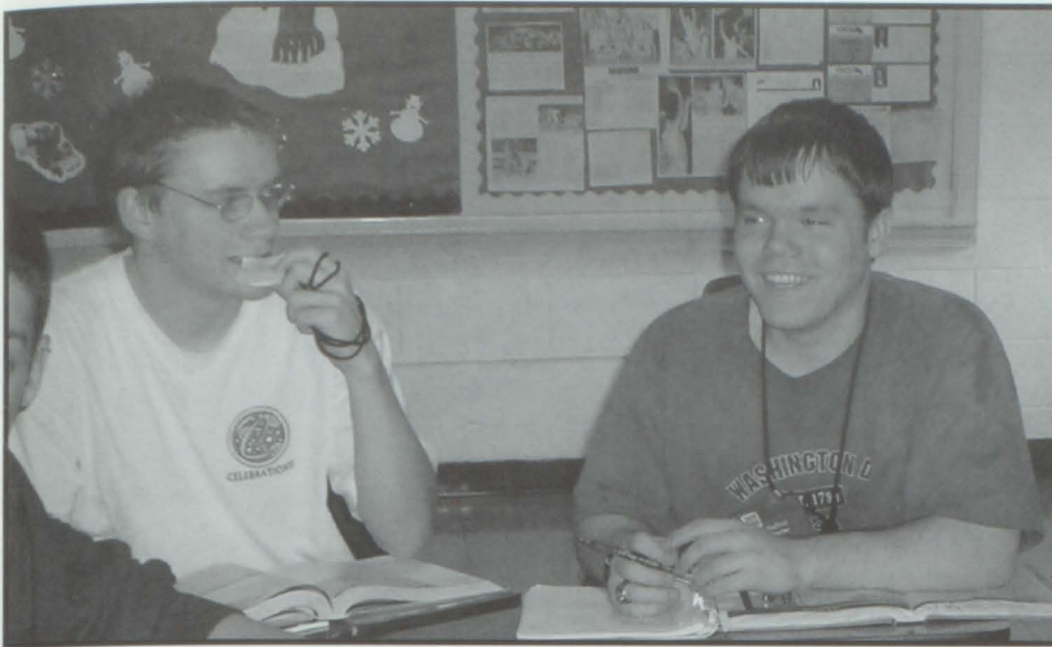

Josh Young listens intently to his group in Business Law.

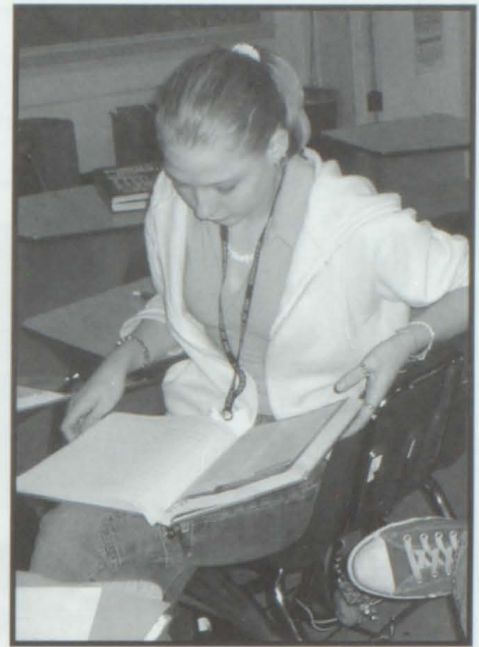

M. Stafford, H. Selman, J. Snelson, C. Adams, B. Anderson, H. Puangnak, G. Wyatt, and A. Stuart celebrate a good showing at FBLA.

Tiffany Wright and Justin Staley are happy when they find out they don't have to take their Business Law test today.

Will Nolin and Matthew Stafford discuss the interesting fact that Business Law has so much to offer in today's economy and the impact that it will have in the near future.

I. Hill looks quickly through her notes trying to find the answer that will get her group the point.

Product sales are a major part of Marketing class. It's great when the products are edible.

A. Bussey concentrates on reading the material needed for her homework.

J. Smith studies his Business law for the up-coming test in his group discussion.

Another day in class for these students means more book work.

Mrs. Smith helps one of her students with their lesson on the computer.

These students are working on some skills they hope to use again some day.

Cookie Dough Bites are filled with many ingredients that make delicious cookies. Similarly, the Family and Consumer Science classes are full of talented students. FACS classes consists of Foods, Child Development, Family Finance, Textiles, and Interior Design, all the things needed to survive after high school. It takes many ingredients to make Cookie Dough Bites and it takes many skills to be successful in life.

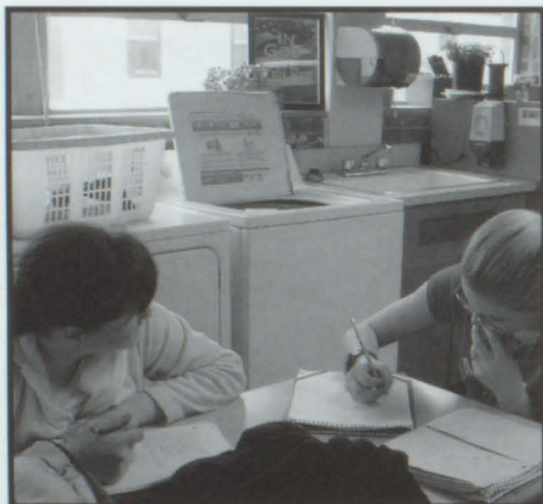

Left: K. Myers and J. Kivett think hard about something to write on their papers in Interior Design.

Right: Mrs. Hopkins's classes are making those sewing machines hum. Bet they're glad they don't have to use their grandmothers' machines.

COOKIE DOUGH BITES

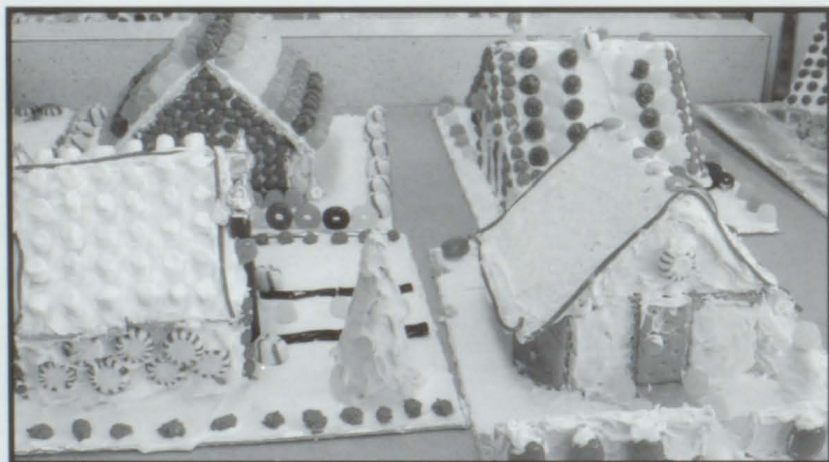

J. Soole and A. Jellison discuss their answers so they can understand the questions better.

Emily Franklin practices her sewing on paper before starting her big project.

WOW! P. Oxidine is good; she can look at the camera, smile, and sew at the same time.

These are just a few of the many gingerbread houses the 8th grade FACS classes had fun making for Christmas.

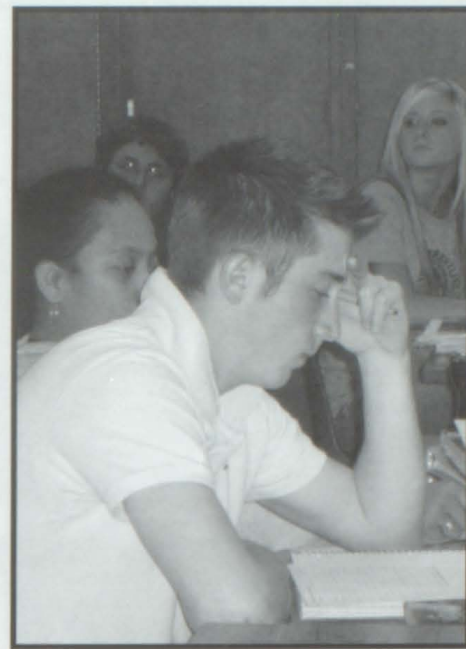

Mrs. Schlueter teaches her students about the development of a child in a family.

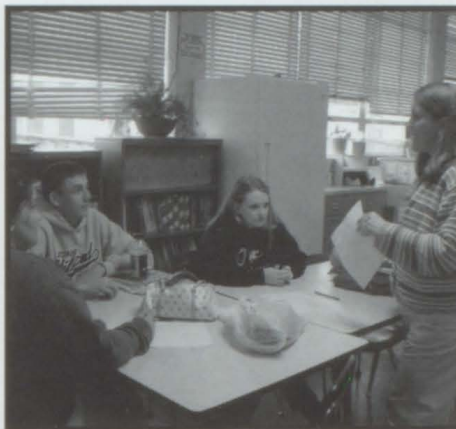

Candace Jennings, Emily Franklin, and Hailey Stuart work to make their gingerbread houses stand out from everyone else's.

D. Lawrence thinks while he reads out of his child development book. Wait! Are his eyes open?!?!

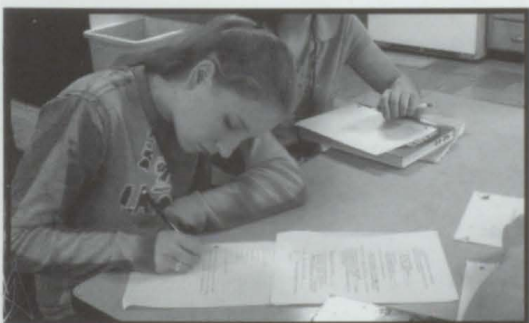

Barry Albious works quietly; however, he is supposed to be listening.

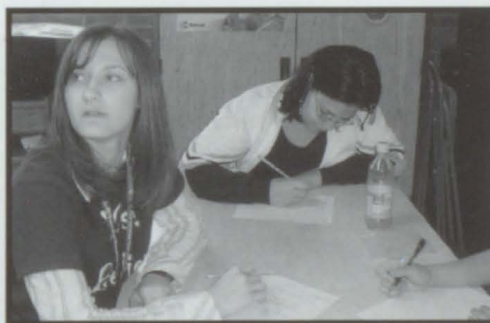

M. Nenaman, H. Patterson and T. Pouge listen to Mrs. Holloway as she gives advice about their paper.

K. Ketcham concentrates on making her gingerbread house.

E. Ball concentrates on the paper she has to write for Mrs. Holloway.

A. Crumbliss looks for inspiration while I. Pupo works on her work for class.

Rhett Rook will not be disturbed while sewing.

For some of us, when we think of Industrial Arts we might think of building things. What greater candy to use than Legos Candy. You know you have used actual legos to build bridges and houses. What greater invention than to make those itty-bitty blocks of fun into candy that you can eat afterwards? As for Industrial Arts, you can't exactly eat the projects, but you can have fun building and creating!

Left: Rylee Wormington and Tiffany Eads are "really" working hard while in Mr. Preston's class.

Right: Jerimiah Borne built a wonderful coffee table for wood shop.

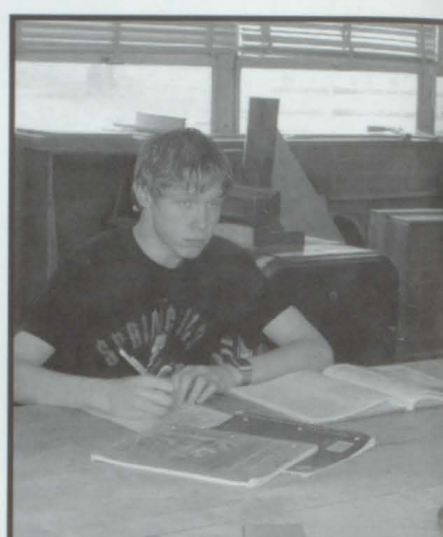

LEGOS CANDY

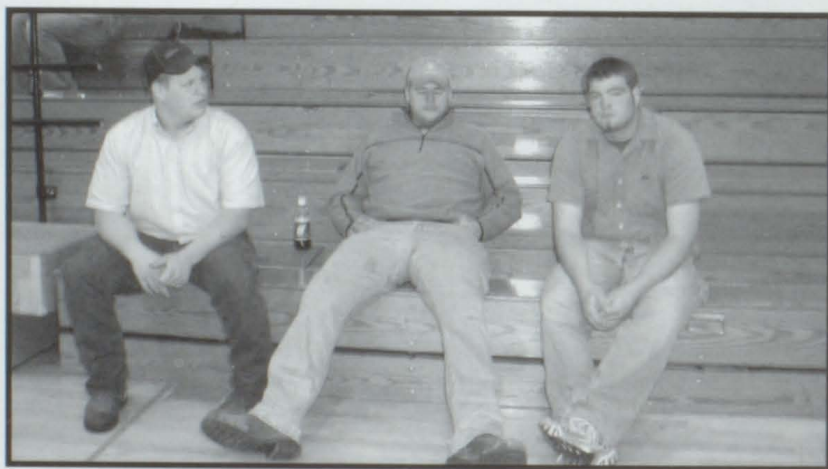

Charlie Holt used his very artistic skills to build this beautiful jewelry box.

Bethany Durbin concentrates on finishing her project for Mr. Graham.

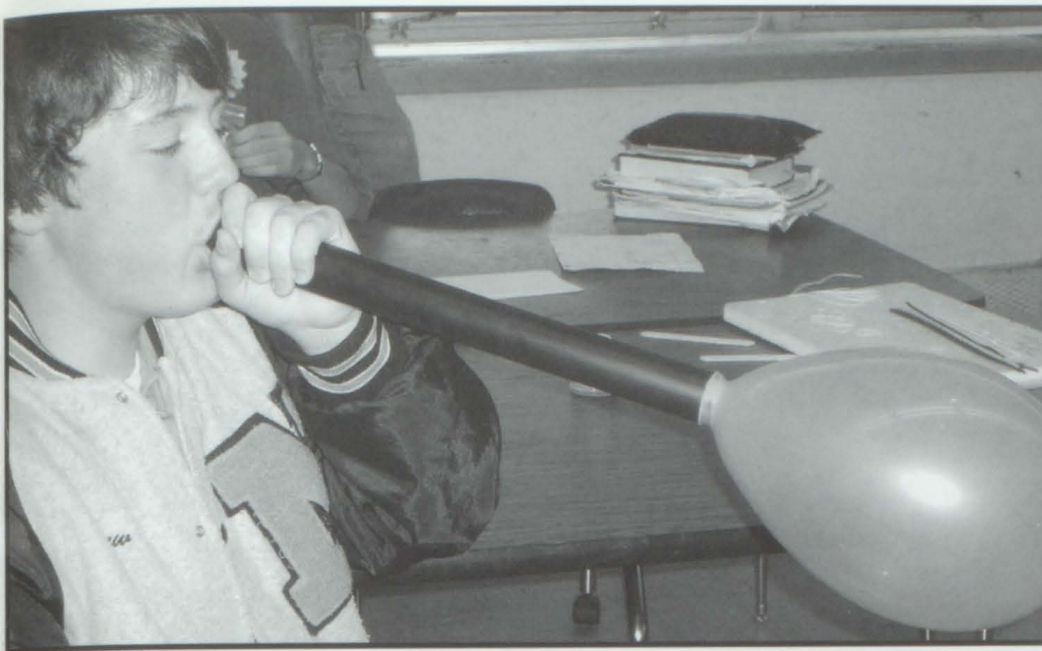

Craig Fishback works hard during his wood shop class.

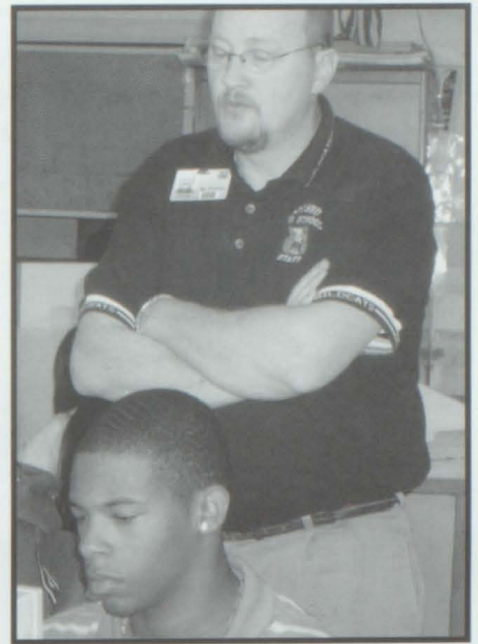

Justin Frossard, Tim Bradford, and Corey Clines relax while their projects are being judged. They took 1st place in the 30th Annual SW. MO Industrial Technology Contest.

Quindell Stanley has fun listening to music on his computer.

Drew Miller uses a weird but unique way to blow up a balloon in Mr. Grahams 8th grade shop class.

Mr. Preston goes over a project with Ishmael Hankins.

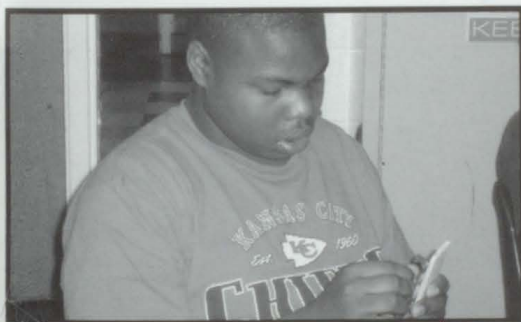

Chava Anaya and Erron Sears are able to relax while working in Mr. Preston's class.

Chantel Woodrum and Kayla Welch are having tons of fun during Graphics Tech.

Mr. Snow (aka "the smartest man alive") assists Leigh Langland with the table saw.

Richard Love works on building a machine that is able to pop two balloons.

Mr. Snow collects tests from Josh Gruenewald and Charlie Holt while attending the Industrial Technology Contest at Crowder.

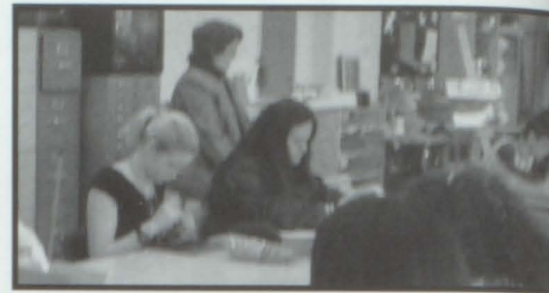

Emily Secrest is completely focused on getting her project finished.

Skittles completely define color. Color completely defines art. So, would that mean, skittles completely define art? You betcha! With the tremendous amount of hard work, art is one way that a student can show their true colors. Although, they probably wouldn't want to taste their rainbow; their ingredients are not usually as tasty as the candy!

Right: Mrs. Camerer enjoys reading to her students while they work on their art projects.

SKITTLES

Levi Lawson tries to get finished with the whole "yarn thing" so he can move on with the more 'manly' things.

Brian Heiskell decides that moving his art work off of the table gives him more room to be artistic.

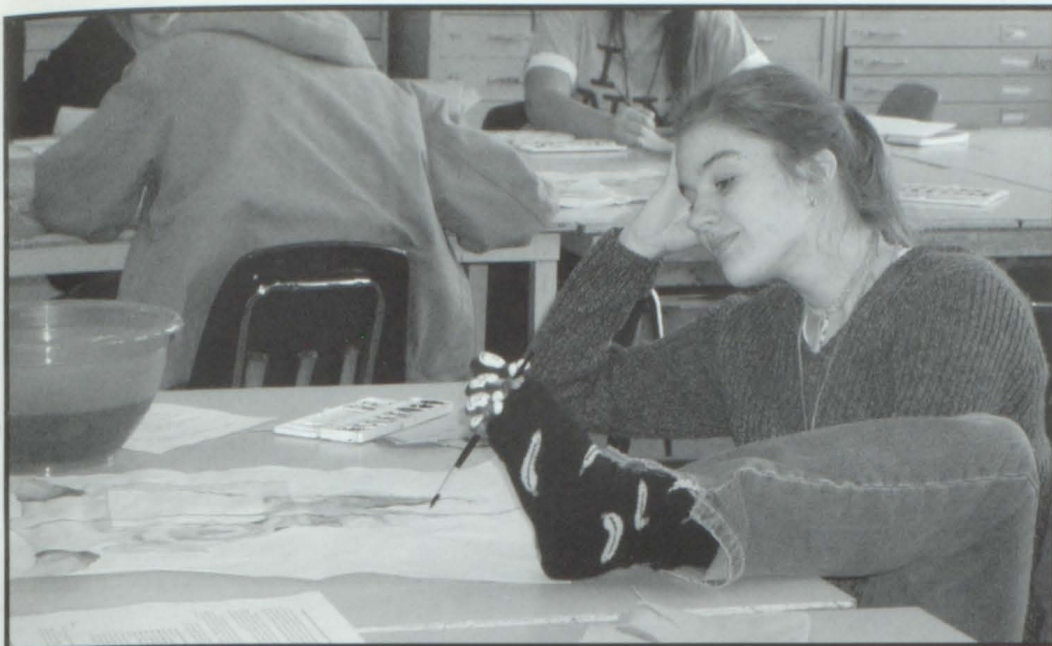

Aaron Mogan focuses on the two most important things in school: art and sleep.

Ashley Clouse and Christin Bryant have a race to see who can be finished first. However, they soon realize that it is not how fast you finish, but how well you finish.

C. Walker shows Mrs. Camerer how much he has progressed with project. Of course, he is doing a fine job.

Whitney Farrar shows off her talents by painting a dramatic piece of art with her lovely toe-socked feet. Needless to say, she is the only student in Neosho High that can paint that well with her feet.

Josh Quentin works on his weaving project with steadfast precision.

Tiffany Carlin finally gave in and allowed herself to become Heidie Owens first makeover beauty.

Rick Teed has proved that just a dab of water and some brightly colored paint leaves room for a master piece.

You may say there is nothing to painting a picture, but Allyson Finley puts tons of effort into painting a "simple" masterpiece.

Sean Jones is about to be surprised because something very creepy is hiding in the trashcan.

Amber England is sure to stay busy with her art project.

A brush in hand, and Jennifer Cumming and Megan Heisler are ready for anything.

The Neosho Jr High and High Schools' choral department is Movin' Out to 5th Avenue. With their gifts of singing and dancing, they know how to entertain a crowd while doing what they do best. Performing in contest after contest, the NJHS and NHS choirs are ready and rearin' to go. With music ranging from French love songs to old folk songs, these choirs are one of a kind.

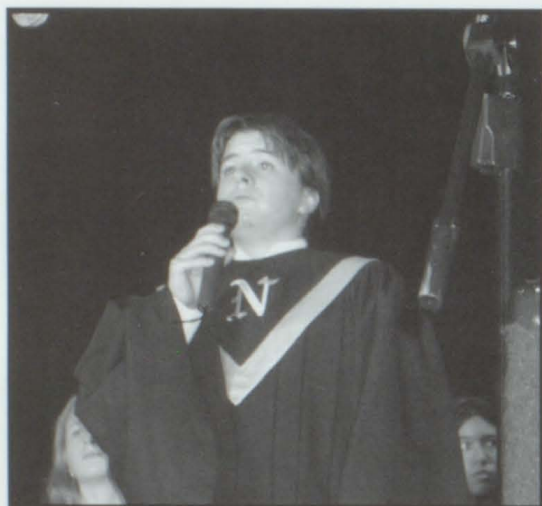

Left: NHS's very own 'boy band' quartet consists of J. Edsell, C. Kendall, D. Hanschu, and J. Wilkins. A few guys are always out to woo the ladies.

Right: The Concert choir finishes off the night with a fantastic performance.

5TH AVENUE

David Hanschu gives us a taste of what it takes to get to the national level.

A few of the Senior choir members get together to make some memories.

The Choraleers show no fear in performing for their classmates, or do they?

The Cecilian choir shows the citizens of Neosho that they have more talent with more voices.

The Concert choir is sure to keep full attention on Mrs. Taylor as she directs they don't want to make any unnecessary mistakes.

During a big performance, the Choraleers never miss a beat. Maybe that's how they made it to the National level.

Ashton Hawkins shows her talent on stage during her solo for the Choraleer performance.

Mrs. Taylor gets together with her sidekick, Mrs. Clark to announce her retirement. We'll miss you Mrs. Taylor!! Welcome to NHS Mrs. Clark!

Jennifer Letterman and Emily Ball show their passion for music as they sing at the fall concert.

The Concert choir sings a song in memory of all those who risk their lives for our freedom.

As the show goes on, the Cecilian altos have decided they were going to "raise the bar" for this year's concert.

N. Bickford, A. Jones, and J. Letterman sing the soprano part of the Chorus Minor.

C. Kendall shows off his singing ability during the Fall Concert.

VOCAL / CHORALEERS 101

The first thing you think of when you hear the word symphony is orchestra, right? Well did you know that there is a candy bar called Symphony? Now every time you bite into a Symphony bar and taste the melody of chocolate, nuts and toffee you can think of how wonderfully our Jr. High and Sr. High Orchestras have played for us all year long.

Left: G. Carol, C. Erisman, N. McAlister, C. England, D. Wilson, S. Short, T. Potter, V. Augspurger, and A. Douglas enjoy the well desired rest at the end of performance season.

Right: R. Myers, S. Hay, and S. Springer decided not to eat with the rest of the Orchestra.

SYMPHONY

B. Tyree, L. Abernathy, J. Henry, and K. Sanchez concentrate on their sheet music.

K. Davis plays his cello with precision and grace during the Jr. High Orchestra class.

A. Allen and J. Uitts try to listen so they can play when it is time for their parts.

Mollie White and Jonna Scott practice their violin duet during Sr. High Orchestra class.

V. Augspurger and A. Douglas show off their basses during a break.

R. Carey, C. Barnes, R. Johnson, and J. Scott watch Ms. DePew's signals so their performance can be flawless.

A. Douglas holds up both Basses while V. Augspurger comes to help her. Great teamwork ladies!

T. Potter, D. Wilson, W. Farrar, and G. Carol talk while their section has a break.

A. Heiskell has fun while she plays her instrument.

Mass chaos erupted when the cheese cake and plates were brought out.

L. Abernathy, J. Russell, and B. Gardner visit while the rest of the class work on the refreshments.

Ms. DePew conducts the Jr. High Orchestra in a classical number.

The Sr. High Orchestra socialized and ate on the last day of class.

Razzles is hard candy that turns to bubble gum, sort of like the transition that takes place in the early days and early hours of practice to the awesome productions of the admirable High School band. It is a fun candy that explodes sweet flavor in your mouth, just as this great band explodes that great spirit into your soul when they play, whether it be at a football game, in a parade, or even down the hallway at school.

Left: The High School Band has a goal set - entertain, and that is exactly what they did.

Right: Mr. Kelso gets the band prepared for that night's concert.

RAZZLES

Crystal Lake enjoys the music of All District Band Night.

Kimberly Neurauder found something fairly interesting on her clarinet and turns to see if Autumn Shurley knows what it could be.

Sara Tindall, Emily Ball, and Lakin Adams each know that being a part of the high school band means being a part of a team.

The Colorguard leads the High School band to the stadium. The first performance of the year at the first football game is part of the traditions of NHS.

Tim Talley, Leigh Langland and Micheal Jonson look cool on a hot day on the field.

The Neosho Jazz Band plays a lot of awesome music and have continued to collect '1' ratings at contests. If you attend school activities where they are playing, it's like an explosion of wonderful music in your ears, just like how POP ROCKS explode in your mouth. They play at Varsity Basketball games, the Yearbook Assembly, and they play locally and attend lots of competitions where they always succeed.

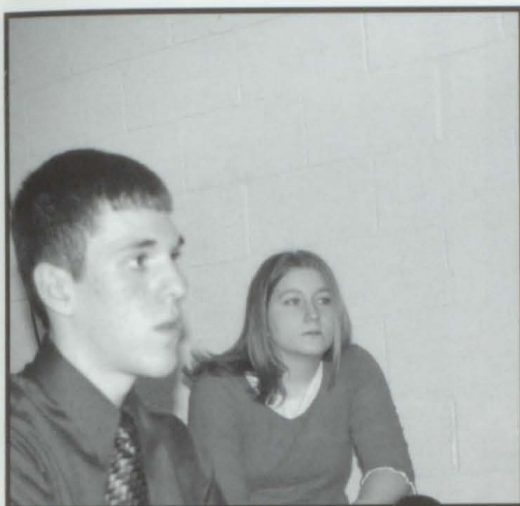

Left: The Jazz Band performs for the school at assemblies and basketball games.

Right: After several awesome performances, the jazz band take a break and rejuvenate.

POP ROCKS

Taylor Dolence concentrates on playing the keyboard while Patti Ford watches.

David Hall and Gavin Kelso focus on getting the right notes on their guitars.

Mr. Kelso always enjoys directing the jazz band.

Chris Enslow puts forth his best performance anytime and anywhere he plays his saxophone.

Devon Toland and McKinzie Crews add some cool rhythms to the Jazz Band.

Tooty Fruity is an awesome piece of candy just like our Black and Gold band is an awesome, of course, band. The band is under the direction of Mr. Rash. We picked Tooty Fruity because it's a band and they toot their horns and add a touch of fruity freshness to our school spirit. It sounds a little silly, but playing in the band can be fun as well as hard work.

Left: The band waits patiently during halftime for the football team to come back out, so they can play a victory tune.

Right: The clarinet quartet follow their notes and play nicely.

TOOTY FRUITY

The Black and Gold band practice their hearts out for Mr. Rash.

Kaitlen Manley plays her flute like a pro. Look at how she follows the notes.

Tyler Berg and Steven Atnip enjoy playing in the rhythm section.

The Black and Gold Band had a little free time before their performance at All District Band Night. They heard some great performances by other bands while they waited.

Mr. Rash conducts the band smoothly and enjoys hearing his students play.

RUNTS are those goofy little candies that are made of pure sugar. The students that our Cadet Teachers assist are just like RUNTS, small and made of sugar. Sometimes these kids can be a little goofy, but our Cadet Teachers have a lot of fun with their students and wouldn't trade them in for all the RUNTS in the world.

RUNTS

Sr. Eric White is truly happy in his cadet teaching class.

Sr. Aaron Snider takes time out of his busy class to pose with his cadet students.

Sr. Aldo Valdez spends his cadet teaching time helping his students with reading.

Sr. Jesse Parmley helps his kindergarten class sing a song about the days of the week.

Sr. Jennifer Cumming assists her kindergarten class with their projects.

Three Musketeers is one of the first candy bars to ever be invented. It has a light, fluffy center surrounded by chocolate. It is also a classic novel written by Alexandre Dumas. This is just one of the many classic and contemporary novels from around the world that NHS students read and study.

THREE MUSKETEERS

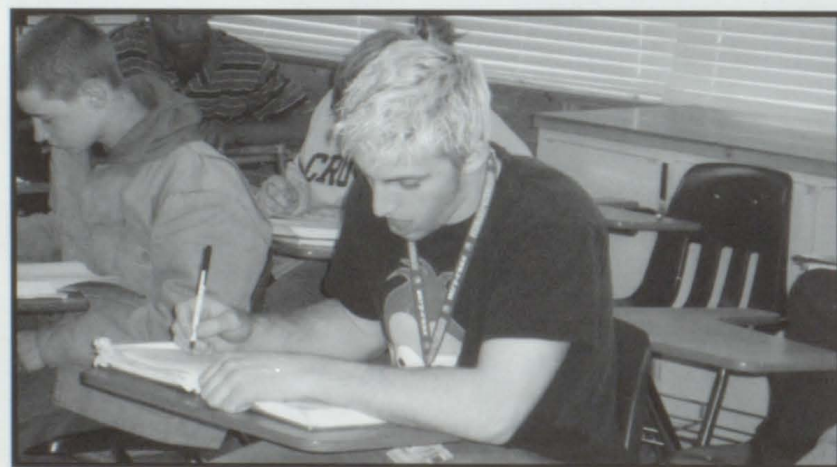

J. Adams, B. Wilson, and T. Chiartano are in a daze in Mr. Espinosa's class.

Ashley Bartkoski starts working on her grammar assignment.

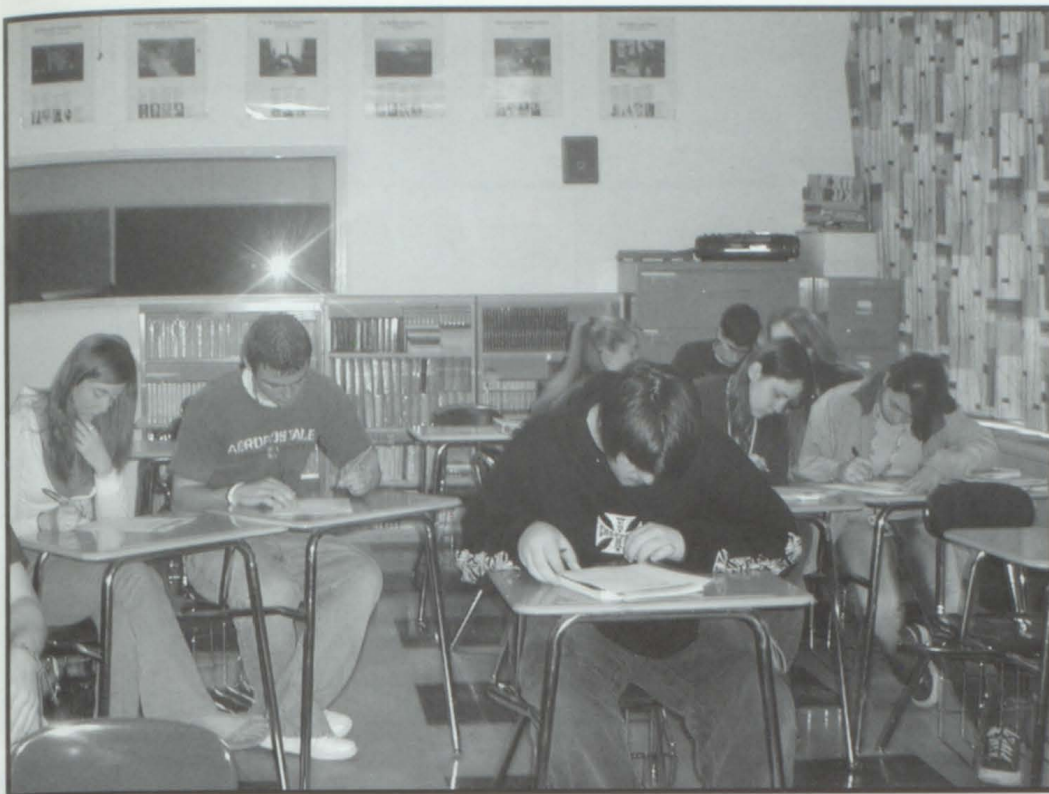

J. Britt tries to convince his class to buy Buggs Bunny in his speech.

Ross Snyder and his classmates work on their assignment during the last few minutes of class - hoping not to have homework.

Katy Rodriguez and Samantha Ely are working hard on their project.

Juniors in Miss Ellison English class 'love' grammar assignments, or so they say when they think she can hear them.

Alisha England auctions off her classmates items in Mrs. Quinley's class.

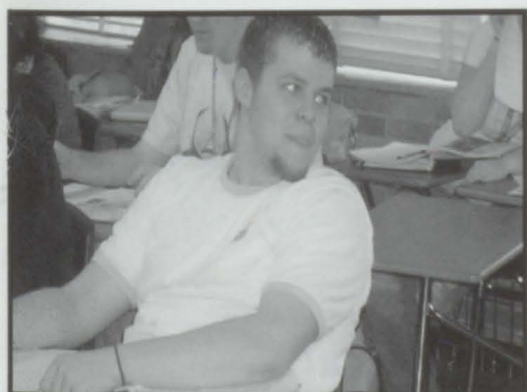

Students from Mrs. Augspurger's class show off their costumes from Romeo and Juliet.

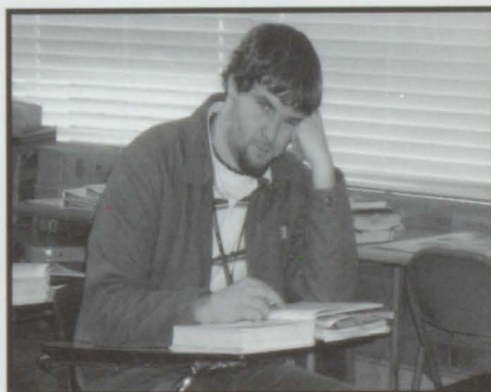

Jonna Scott reads along with the class in Mr. Espinosa's class.

K. Fischer, J. Ruzic, A. Clouse, and C. Marble show off their handiwork in their English class.

Josh Shaeffer kicks back while the rest of his classmates work.

Nick Sharpe listens intently while Mrs. Quinley reads.

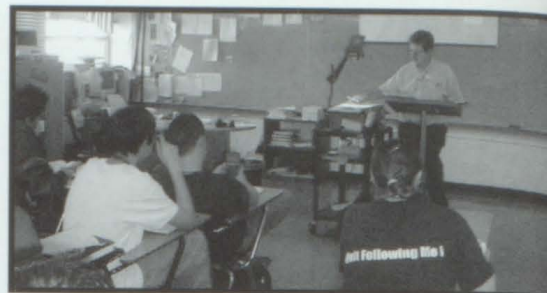

Nick Stuart and Val Augspurger type their English assignment.

Our education is a delicate balance that must include Science, Social Studies, English, Math, and a little bit of fun. But if you want to move forward in your life, you have to have Math. An education with a healthy helping of mathematics is worth at least 100 Grand. Pythagoras, Archimedes, Einstein, all were the greats, and changed the world in very extraordinary ways. But Math is fun as well as important. So, let's see what all the math wizards can do!

Left: Richard Love, Garth McMahas, and Jake Toy wonder at the workings of Algebra.

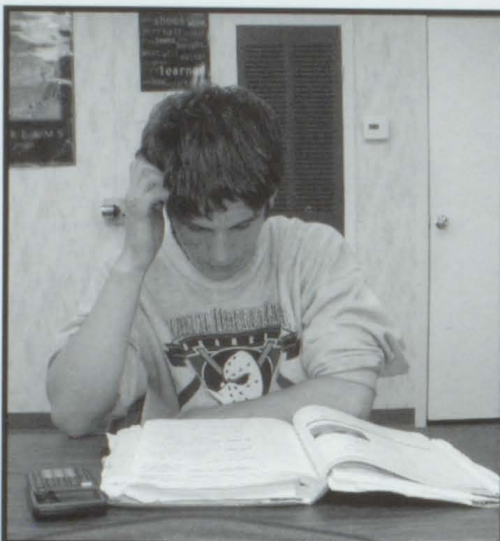

Right: Mr. Huffman is a great teacher; he is sure to go into depth on everything.

100 GRAND

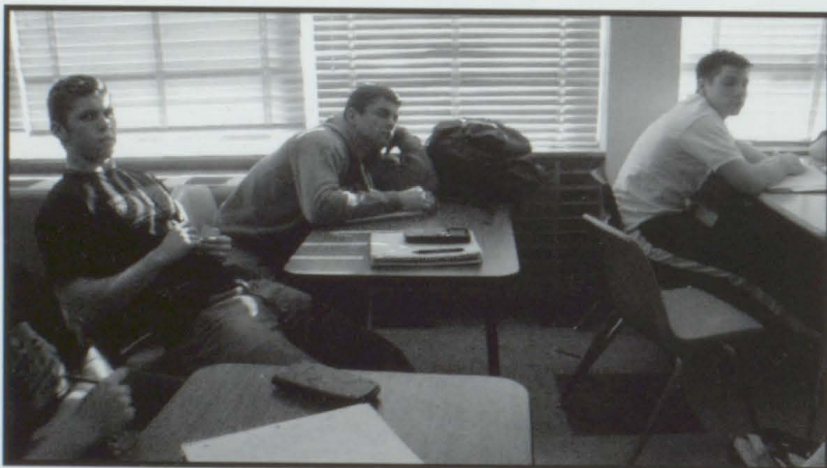

Mr. Griggs loves PowerPoint presentations.

Z. Wells concentrates on his homework.

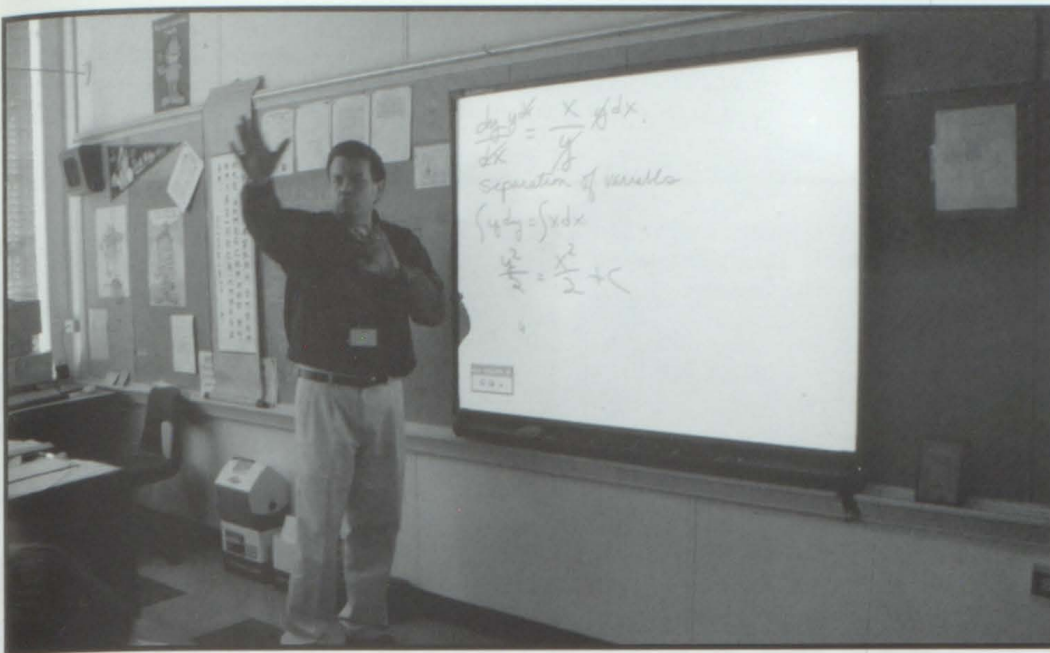

Mrs. Tanner offers help to G. Rihsa.

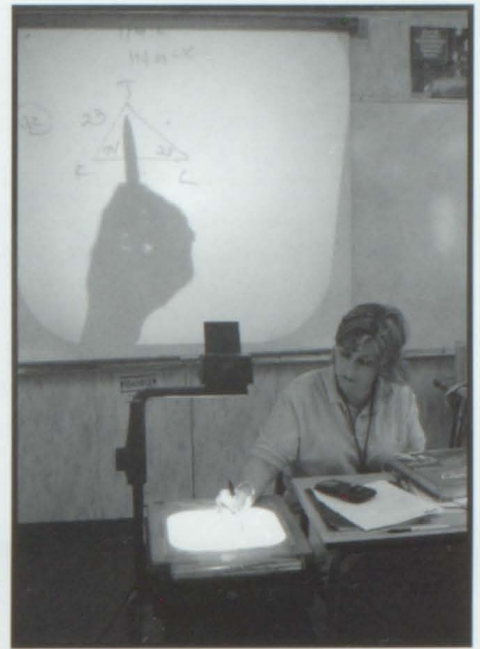

Kyle Fausett and Trey Niedert look at the birdie while Dane Espinosa rests his eyes for a moment during Calculus with Mr. Haupt.

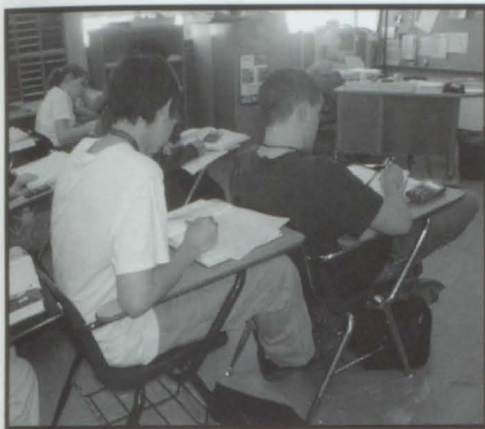

Brittany Bogle works with pen and highlighter to get the most out of her notes.

Mr. Haupt is free to express himself on his beloved, and long awaited, Smart Board. His students liked it so much he gave them an opportunity to operate it if they did well on the MAP test.

Mrs. Baggs demonstrates that a projector is a great place for shadow puppets.

Zack Wright and Joe Hunter work hard to finish their work on time, maybe even early.

Travis McClellan studies the Algebraic equations on the board carefully.

Unfortunately, most students are not as thrilled about Math as their teachers.

Mrs. Baggs is one of those teachers who tries to make learning fun.

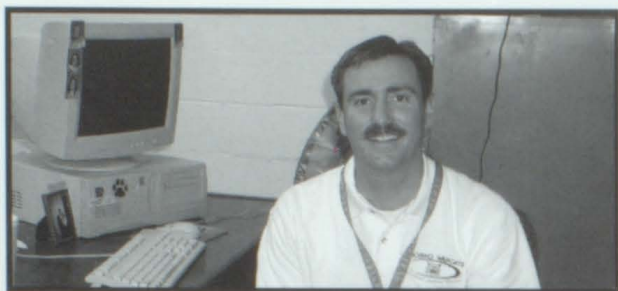

Some teachers still rely on the trusty overhead, while others have moved on to the new Smart Boards.

Mattie McGuffey focuses in Math class to keep her grades up.

Gummi Worms are, of course, worm inspired candy. They come in many different colors and have a slight sour taste to them. In Science one of the many creatures you have to dissect would be worms. So what better combination, right? Now, while you chomp down on Gummi Worms, just remember that there are people out there that have gotten a little closer than usual with the real thing and learned more than they ever thought they would about worms and other living things.

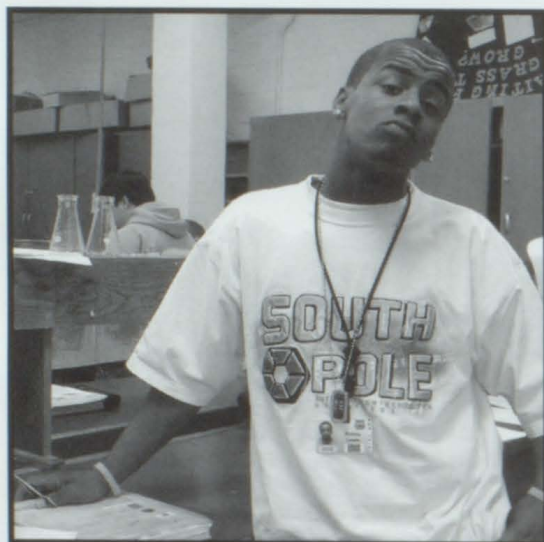

Left: We finally caught Mr. Burghart to take a picture before he left for his conference period.

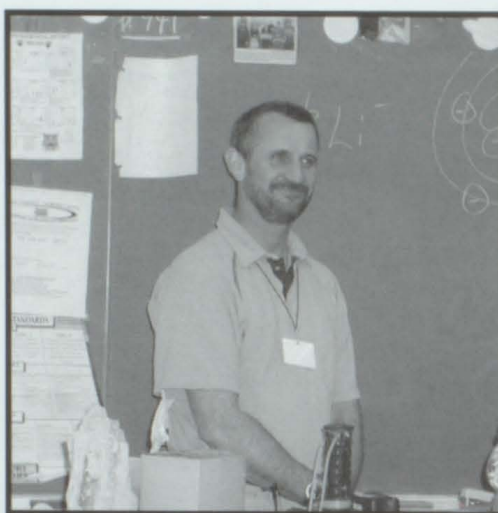

Right: The students in Mr. Clement's Science class work diligently as we capture them in the moment.

GUMMI WORMS

Sidney Lewis strikes a pose while in the lab.

Mr. Clement watches over his class with a grin on his face.

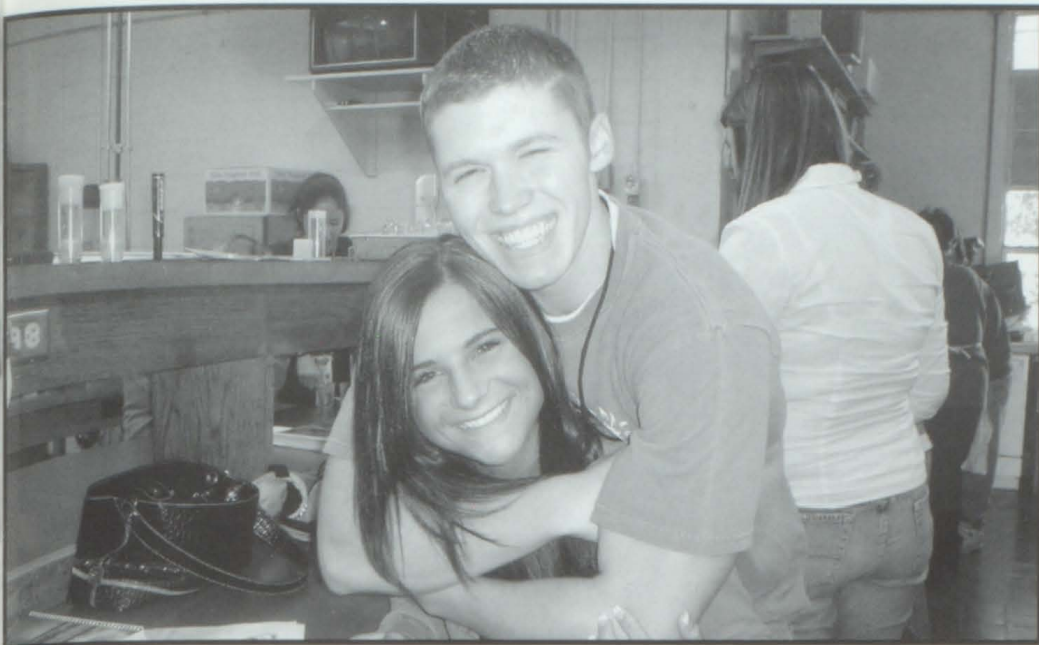

J. Smith is working hard on science.

Kendra Hernandez and Nancy Hang smile with the skeleton head in the lab during their 4th period Biology 2 class.

8th grader, Cheyenne Spina works hard in Mr. Clement's science class.

Kyle Fausett and Brooke Cristy stop for a moment from their experiments in the lab to share some 'lov-n' in the Biology lab.

R. Snyder and M. Bennett are two laid back fellas in their Science class

Anthony Luna's expression make him seem a little uncertain about dissecting the worms.

L. Andrews helps J. Garcia with science questions. Good friends are always nice to have around.

Nathan McAlister gets a little physical with the potatoes and apples in Biology.

W. McNeil and D. Buholt ignore the strange camera taking pictures of them.

J. Blevins and K. Leonard have a little laugh while doing their work.

Biology 1 has fun dissecting worms.

SCIENCE 113

To be a Warhead, you need to study many areas of history. American History studied the Civil War, WWI and II, the Cold War, and the Civil Rights Movement. Geography studied the World and cultures. Government covered the US Constitution. Modern World History covered the history of the last Century. Ancient World History studied ancient civilizations and their creations. These students are the true Warheads of Neosho High.

Left: Anthony Westfield is listening to his history lecture, unlike James Coyle who is distracted by the photographer

WARHEADS

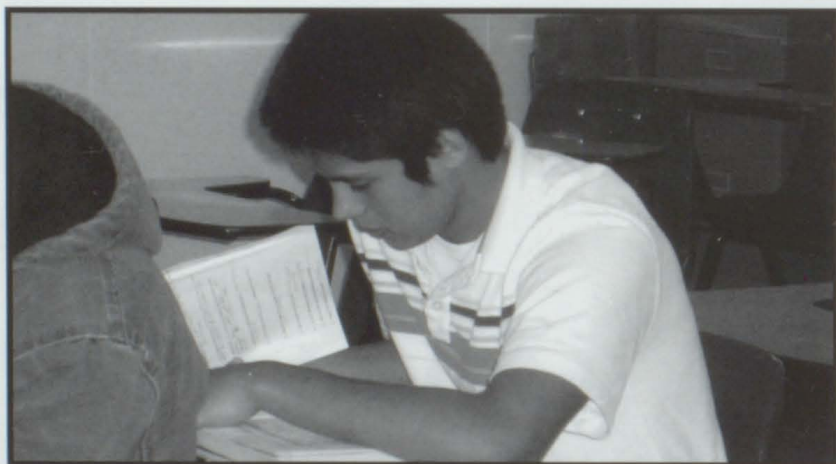

Whitney Farrar soaks in knowledge, listening during her history lesson.

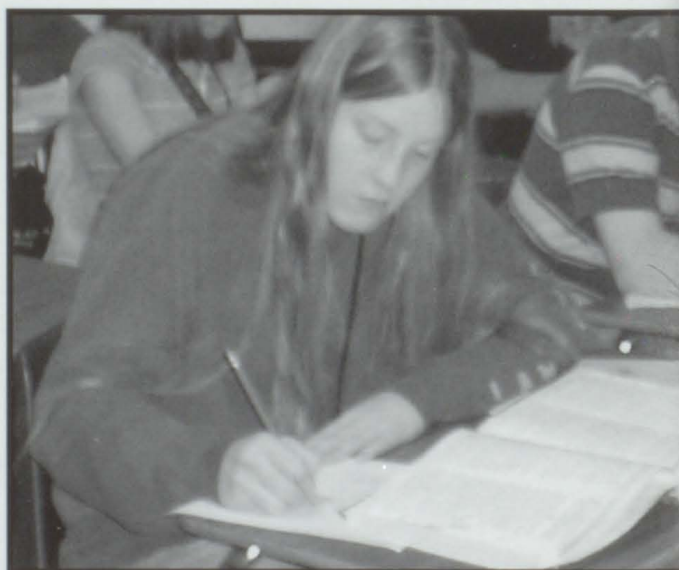

Ashley Marble and Ethan Houk work on their assignments, hoping to get good grades.

Carly Adams works diligently on her history assignment.

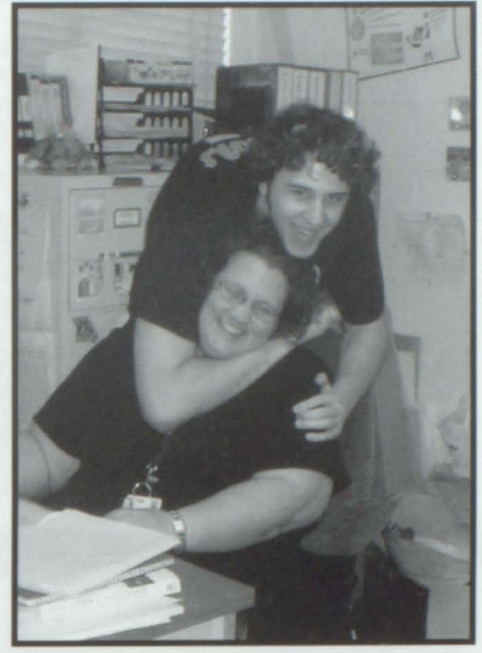

Chava Anaya looks interested in the text he is reading in history class.

Echo Hartman knows how important it is to get your work completed so the information is fresh in your mind.

Leandra Toomoth puts together her mosaic of the Eiffel Tower in Ancient World History. This is the creative side of history class.

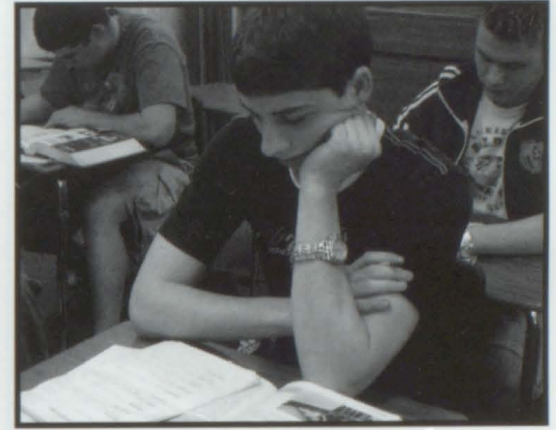

Phillip McClintock gets Mrs. Bowman in a head lock - all for fun and games!

Tim Talley pays close attention to Mrs. Marta's lesson.

Shannon Kline raises his hand and scratches his chin while trying to get his teacher's attention.

While Mr. Schibi is teaching, Matt Hall puts his hand on his cheek and shuts his eyes for a little nap.

Kim Sarrett works on her map of South America for geography class.

Michael Bennet is learning about all the wars in which America participated.

Dalton Chester listens closely to Mr. Lineberry's history lecture.

Did you know that a single Jawbreakers takes 14 to 19 days to make? It is a process called 'panning'. The panner starts a Jawbreaker with one single grain of sugar, adding liquid sugar slowly with a little color and flour until it reaches the perfect size. Panning uses a giant rolling pan with a flame on the bottom, keeping the concoction hot while moving around. It follows the process of making a great debater or interper. They start small, gaining experience by staying focused and moving forward. Without all these factors, we wouldn't have the greatest squad in Missouri!

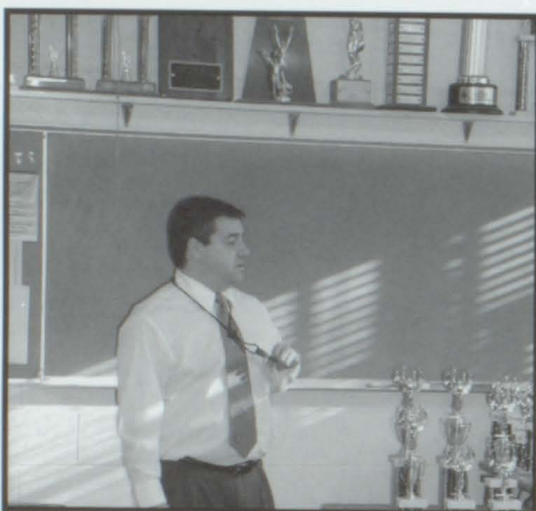

Left: Inside the Ballot Room, workers tally up scores to see who will progress to tomorrow's rounds.

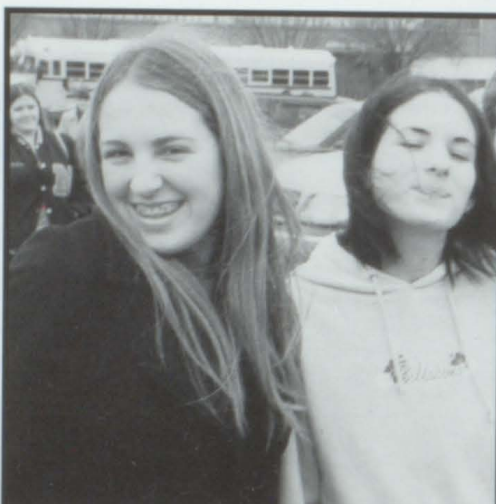

Right: Champ Teamers J. Carr, R. Childress, A. Honeycott, M. Day, J. Paul, and L. Toomoth.

JAW BREAKERS

Mr. Watkins always commands the attention of his class, no matter what.

L. Toomoth and A. Honeycott show us how spunky debaters really are.

Mrs. Nielsen puts all her energies into everything she does, including supervising students at tournaments.

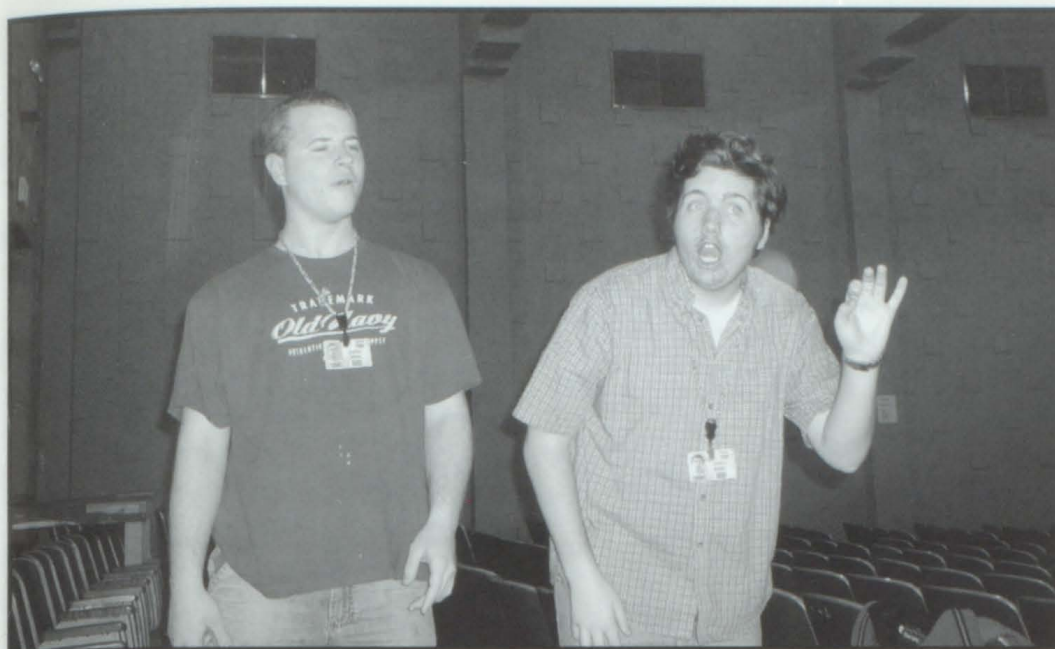

Jordan Paul and Leandra Toomoth take a nice quiet break before Neosho's Tournament gets under way.

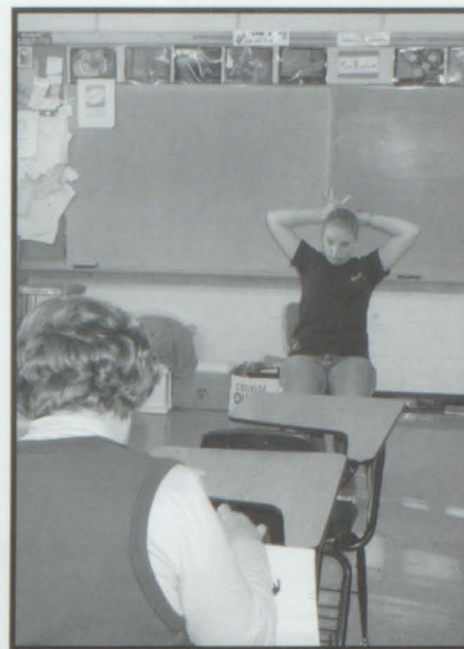

Steffen Weist, Parker Whitman and Zack Self are active members of the Drama department, even if they don't look very active at the moment.

Steffen Wiest and Jeff Baker are always very animated, particularly when they are performing together.

Chelsey Cole prepares to present her performance, "The Frog Prince," to Mrs. Nielsen for the next tournament.

W. Reed, C. Moore, K. Edsell, E. Secrest, A. Crumbliss, and K. Akin are in the Hospitality Room, where you will always find lots of snacks and smiles.

Zack Evans does a great job as a time keeper, one of the many jobs for novice debaters.

It's amazing how many glittering trophies the Speech and Debate team seem to rack up. Great job, guys!

James Coyle, Laila Khan, Chris Dolence, Matt Day, and Tony Rosequist radiate enthusiasm from the Extemp Draw.

The Vested Duo strikes again! M. Day and J. Carr really love their vests.

Sarah Leonard and Ashley Honeycutt prepare by reviewing their evidence.

If Hot Tamales stay in one place in your mouth too long they can make you sweat. In the gym and weight lifting classes sweating show that you are NOT staying in one place. This year the PE and Weight Lifting classes participated in group activities such as dodge ball, taebo, pickle ball, gymnastics, bowling, skating, and swimming. Health class participated in running the mile, CPR, and a hunting course.

Jeremy Thurman is showing up everyone at jump rope!

Derek Lawrence sweats through his workout so he can improve his physical health.

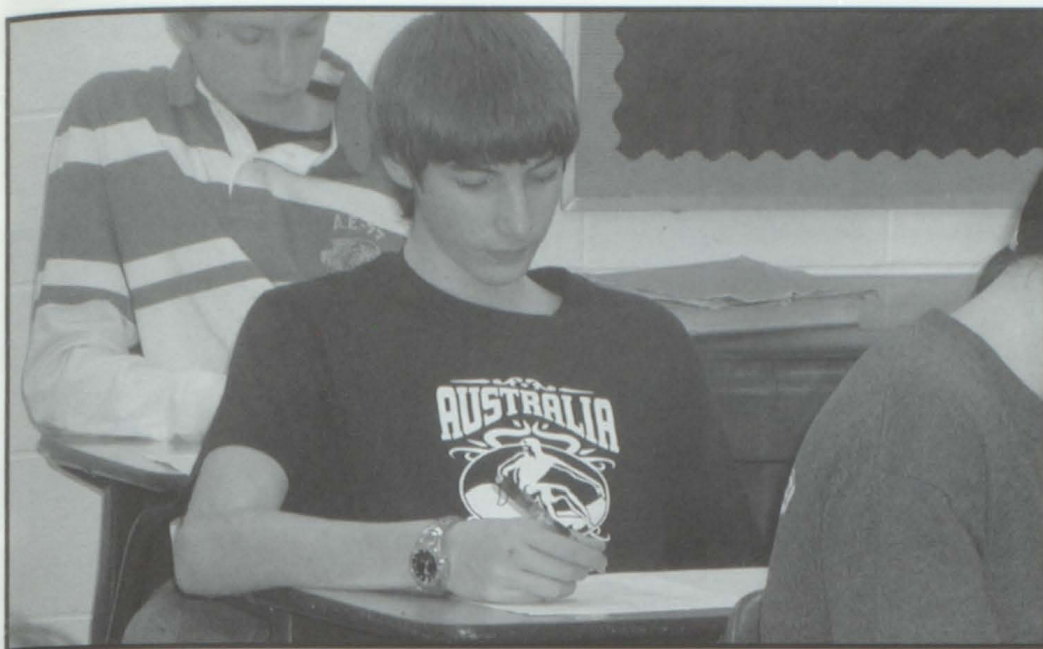

Alisha Mitchell works on her assignment during Health class. Knowing about good health is the first step to having a healthy body.

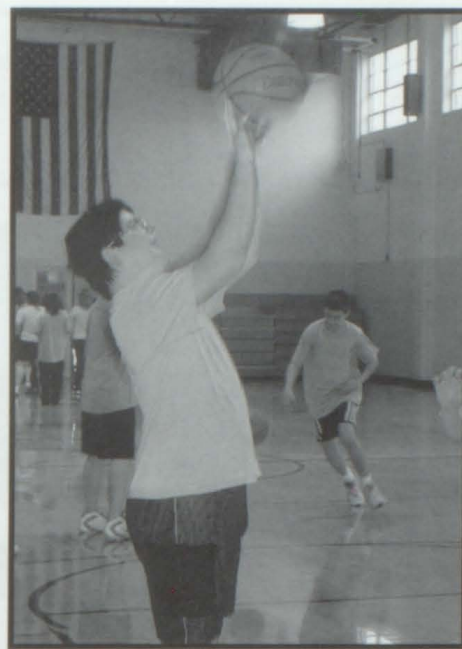

Kelly Workman stretches as hard as he can to get as much weight up as possibly.

Kyle Clarence day dreams while health class is going on. Is he thinking about water safety or CPR training?

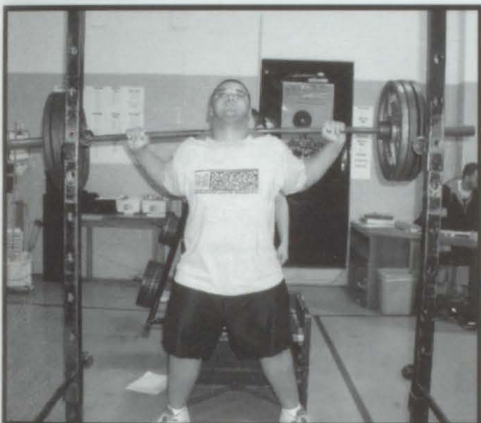

Jeff Stockton shoots, hoping to score two points.

This lift must be easy, Amber Heiskell can smile for the camera at the same time.

Coach Phillip's co-ed weight lifting class works together on their push ups.

C.J. Bowlin squats his way to victory!

Sarah Heath does her work as fast as she can. She knows how important health class is.

Coach Alms makes her class do hard work during class for slacking off.

This sophomore class does some lunges to work up a sweat.

Whyett DeMoss brings the bar down as he finishes his sets.

Coach Nichols has her class do aerobics. Are they "sweatin' to the oldies"?

There are millions of different languages around the world. Each continent may have just a few or a different one in every city. World Pops are lollipops that show each continent on the wrapper, and let you see how foreign languages stretch all across the globe.

The Spanish class learns body parts by singing "Head, Shoulders, Knees, and Toes" in Spanish.

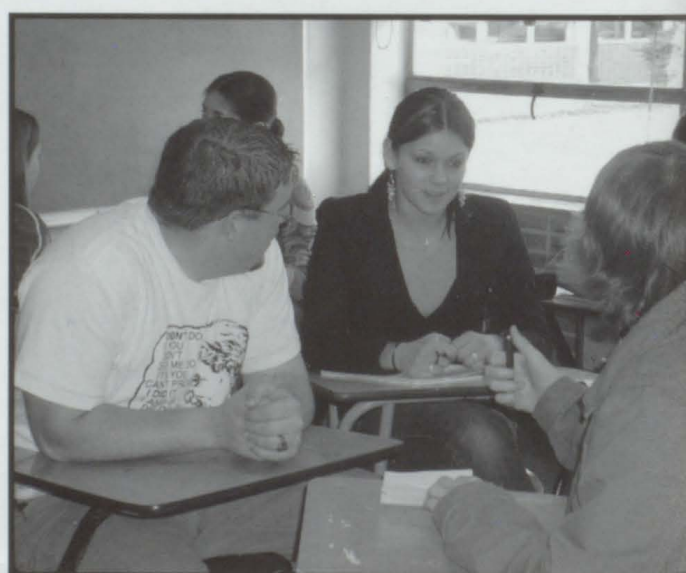

Amy Crumbliss works on her comic strip in Spanish 3.

Jessica McBride and Barbara Delavaga enjoy working on their Spanish projects.

Mrs. Villalobos's class listens carefully as they are told directions for their next assignment.

Sabrina Dronsgall helps Corey Clines and Jacob Snelson catch up on their German words.

Mrs. Kenny sponsored the GAPP program this year, and these are the students who visited our school from different parts of Germany. Back: Julia Kilian, Martin Ebersberger, Harold Pinsenschaum, Lisa Regler, Jakob Schwalme, and Julia Ammon. Front: Anne Brauer, Eva Stoll, Marion Popek, Mai Lan Krafft, Jasmine Weber, Sabrina Dronsgalla, Ramona Lunkmoss and Ellen Esch. Their teacher, Volker Krafft, his wife Christina Krafft, and their two children Fiona and Veight.

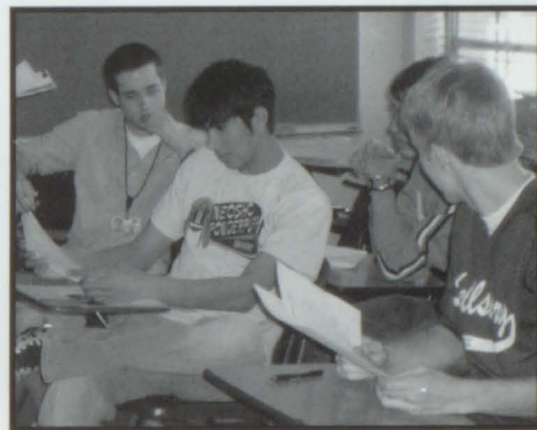

Mrs. Kenny's foreign language classes had a chance to put their drawings in the poster contest and here are just a few samples.

Mrs. Villalobos's 7th hour Spanish class learns a few Spanish vocabulary words, which will soon be used for a quiz.

Kayla Welch and Michael Sides listen closely to Mrs. Kenny in German.

Cory Barbari and Kyle Wagner think hard on what their German papers are saying.

Rick Teed and Nilza Meza are more worried about their project than talking.

Harold Pinsenschaum shows Valerie Augspurger how things are in Germany.

Lindsay Faries shows the German class the ten items in her bag.

Yearbooks are such a great way to see your high school experience Now or Later. You are able to recall good and bad memories of high school. As a tribute to the people who put together this yearbook, we present you the 2004-2005 yearbook staff. These are the people who help bring back memories of the years past. Just as the great taste of this candy from the past can still be enjoyed today, you are able to experience this yearbook Now or Later.

NOW OR LATER

Editor Brittani Lindsey flashes us her magic red pen that she edits our pages with.

How cute! Sam Berg shows us how to take a picture.

K. Sharpe, H. Sears J. Letterman and A. Cristy contemplate over the design for the podium at the yearbook assembly.

Jessica Blevins looks through the Yearbook folder to get some answers about her pages.

Cookies and Cream is a popular candy made of white chocolate and dark chocolate chips. The newspaper is black and white, just like the candy bar. The Neosho High School newspaper staff works hard to print The Wildcat Times and Toilet Talk. Each new publication was anticipated by the readers of NHS.

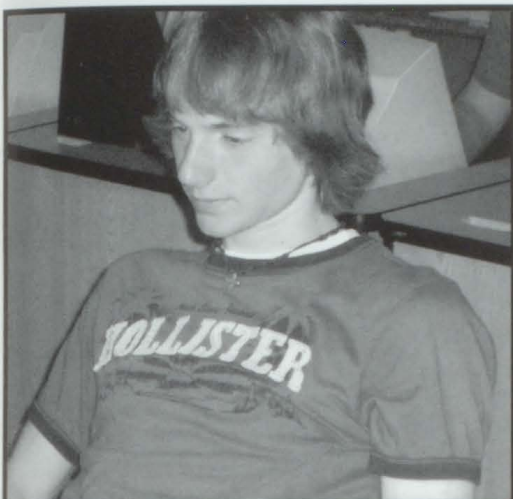

Left: Melissa Cooper finished her assignment and enjoys some free time before the next deadline.

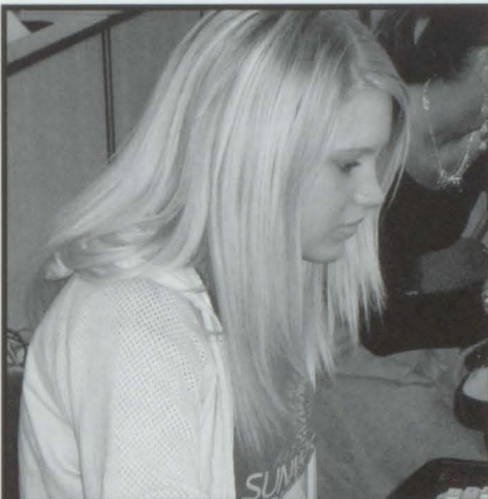

Right: Jacob Snelson and Chase Barnes work on their columns for the Wildcat Times.

Right: Mr. Burghart spies in on the class to see if Chief's recruiting plan is making an affect.

BAZOOKA

ROTC announced Will Nolin and Jennifer Belk as their 2005 Millitary Ball King and Queen.

C. Teed, G. Charoh, and W. Nolin get their groove out on the dance floor.

Congratulations to the prince, Cole Rosario, and princess, Shannon Geist, of the 2005 Millitary Ball.

The ROTC members are looking nice in their formal dress. Good going fellas.

A.J. Jensen gathers up a crew to help her put the arch together. Needless to say, this work in progress turned out to be a master piece.

Mr. Goodbar has all the qualities that everyone likes, just like student council. This year Student Council participated in picking up trash, gathering cans for the canned food drive, selling candy and orange crushes for Valentine's Day, and collecting Easter baskets for young hospital patients. All the money they collect they donate to the school and area organizations.

Left: The members of Student Council clog up the hallway for a short time!

MR. GOODBAR

Student Council brings in Easter Baskets to help make some children's time in the hospital a little easier.

Ben Anderson reaches over to the next desk to borrow his neighbors pencil.

Trey Neidert gets in front of the class to give a brief presentation.

Joseph Hunter sits in his desk waiting for the meeting to begin.

While some may have never heard of Key Club others have the privilege of being a member of this very important and exciting organization. Not only does Key Club build character, it ROCKS! Thus the title of the Key Club page, ROCK CANDY. Along with area Key Clubs they were able to raise almost 7,000 dollars for the Boys and Girls Club of Joplin. With out that money it might not be in our community today. Thank you Key Club for all your hard work and remember to ROCK ON!

Left: Marji Ducommun, Pat Wilson, Danielle Tice, and Sam Berg were very excited to be at convention in Springdale, Arkansas.

One of the great things about Reeces Pieces is that there are sooooo many in a bag that the awesome tastes seems to last forever. The League is a group of many great Eighth Grade students who all want to have fun, and try to make a difference in their community. They enjoy working to make their school a better place and helping people in the Neosho area.

After working hard to collect Easter baskets for hospitalized children, some of the League members prepared them for delivery. Front: Shelby Barratt, Ashley Bartkoski, Ashley Jemes, Rachel Stuart, Allie Cagle, and Rhett Rook. Back: Chasity Ashworth, Amber Brock, and Tiffany Clark.

This year we had an outstanding football team. Each player was very dedicated and knew just what to do when the time came. Due to their dazzling performance, we decided to name this page Crunch. As you bite into a Crunch bar, you have to use perseverance and have a little strategy so you don't bust your teeth. You can't just bite into the candy bar, and our team never just went to the game. When our team went out on the field, they didn't just go to play, they went to dominate. The team knew just how to Crunch their opponents to make it a good game.

A WHOPPER is a chocolate covered malted milk ball. Whoppers are soft chocolate on the outside and fairly hard and crunchy on the inside. When it comes to volleyball, the girls are the whoppers. The girls are soft and sweet on the outside, but on the inside they are tough whopping machines; in other words, they "whop" the ball with overwhelming might.

Sweet Tarts are a very well known candy. They come in a variety of colors such as Yellow, Blue, Orange, Green, Red, and Purple. They are very tart until you get to the middle and then they have a sweet spot. A tennis racket is much like a Sweet Tart, it also has a sweet spot in the middle of the tennis racket, which gives the Girls Tennis team the power to serve up victory after victory for the Neosho Lady Cats.

Mounds is the chocolate covered candy, full of creamy coconut. Coming in a pair, you could possibly call the two pieces a "team" of chocolates. Also, because it is a mound of fun, this delightful candy best describes Neosho's Lady Cat softball team. This group of talented young ladies have exactly what it takes, as a team, to make it to the top for a great season. That's exactly what they did with their twenty-one and six record. Neosho is very proud of the astounding reputation the Lady Cats have established.

Hershey's Hugs became popular several years ago. They have white chocolate swirls twisted around milk chocolate. The Neosho Wildcat Wrestlers look like they are twisted around their opponent in a victory hold. When they are in a match, there is no letting go until their hand is held high by the ref. The team sent a record number to State: Taylor Maus (9) = top 8, Joe Adams (12) and Brandaon Crandall (9) = 2nd, Brandon Russow (9), Dane Espinosa (12) = 1st, Tommy St.Louis (10) = 6th, Justin Staley (10) = top 8, Trevor Lewis (12), and Frank Hebert (12) = 3rd. They finished 7th overall.

HERSHEY'S HUGS

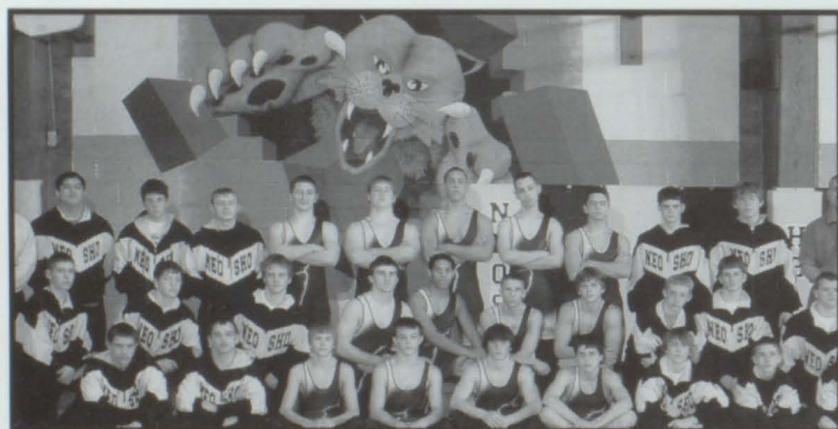

Grant Tyler and Paul Dick go head to head in practice.

The team talks about their strategy to take Carthage down.

Coach Elliott and Coach Espinosa huddle the team together before the match.

Fnt: M. Rue, B. Shadwick, T. Moss, B. Russow, J. Ruzic, B. Crandall, J. Demoss, R. Randall, M. Nowak. Mdle: C. Enslow, T. Harris, D. Altman, T. St. Louis, B. Albious, J. Adams, S. Kline, S. Ward, J. One of the great things about a Life Saver is that there is a hole in every one. The golf team hoped they would find a 'hole-in-one' every one of the holes on the course. Skills abound here in this team, and they know it. The group resembles a group of professionals at the U.S. Open. Even their stances are identical to the pros. They take their winning attitude everywhere they go, so maybe someday their game will be like Life Savers, too.

Kendall Chalmers lines up his club; his goal is to make a great shot.

What better name than Babe Ruth for the high school baseball page. At a young age of 19, Babe Ruth signed his first contract with the Boston Red Sox, and today the candy bar still reminds us of this legend of the diamond. Our boys play very hard during every inning and hope to make the majors some day. Babe Ruth is full of lots of great taste, while the team is full of unique individuals, all with different parts to play during the game.

Tanner Pogue stands at second after a lead off double.

Ben Anderson contemplates his first pitch during a game against Nevada.

R. Randall cheers his team on, while T. Neidert and J. Daley coach from the side.

P. Mitchell hits Z. Stuart home without missing a beat.

Coach Stuart congratulates Zach for his single.

Front: C. Barnes, K. Swagerty, C. Marion, J. Wasson, D. Randon, T. Pogue, T. Wilson, Middle: D. Lawernce, B. Anderson, J. Young, P. Mitchell, C. Sexson, G. Wyatt, R. Randall, Back: Coach Stuart, T. Talley, T. Neidert, J. Daley, E. Smith, P. Main, Z. Stuart, Coach Crupper

The team plays catch before their scrimmage against one another.

The boys take the field after their powerful display with the bat.

B. Anderson, G. Wyatt, J. Young, and Z. Stuart meet to work out a game plan.

C. Barnes keeps P. Main close to first, so he can't pull off a steal during practice.

D. Randon stands in left field just waiting for a ball to come his way.

The team prays for safety and a touch of luck before their game against Monett.

T. Wilson waits in the on deck circle and encourages the man at the plate.

Big League Chew is strips of bubble gum in a pouch. Aspiring baseball players chew it because they think they are acting like the pros. These young players also dream of being on in the 'big leagues,' the High School baseball team. The Freshman team worked hard this year and ended the season with a 3-14 record.

BIG LEAGUE CHEW

Koty Dowell fields a bunted ball and throws to first base.

Scott Wilson throws the third strike to get the out.

The infield players huddle together to work out their strategy to beat the other team.

Andrew Hendrick and Koty Hinz help Coach Price by keeping stats.

Zach Branham swings hard and sends the ball into the outfield.

Everyone has seen the Starburst commercials where suddenly a rainbow of colors showers down from the clouds, out of a fountain, any other variety of places. When the athletes of the Special Olympics go for any competition, from Bowling to Basketball to Track and Field, their colorful smiles shine as bright as stars and burst to victory every time.

Left: D. Tice and C. Lawson relax under the shade of the umbrella while B. Hines and H. McMullin soak up the sun.

STARBURST

Josh Coe and Spencer Farley flash us a beautiful smile before heading off to the next event.

Chris Hall gets pumped up when he sees how far he threw.

A. Preston, G. Chacon, and M. Callahan are so excited to compete they can't quit smiling.

W. Demoss, K. Ketchum, B. Morrow, and D. Klier love the comradery and heated competition that comes during Track and Field season.

A. Avitua, T. Eads, and K. Jennings show that competitors can be buff and beautiful.

GUSHERS aren't your ordinary candy and Tennis isn't your ordinary sport. Tennis is a lot like GUSHERS, a lot of work occurs on the inside but it looks easy to the untrained eye. These boys gushed with talent and had fun while they played through another great season.

GUSHERS

Sr. Ryan Childress demonstrates a master serve at a Neosho tennis match.

Sr. Joe Adams waits patiently for a tennis ball to strike.

Jr. Spencer Farley makes a great return on a serve.

Sr. Phil McClintock shows off his skill at back hand returns.

Seniors: Joe Adams, Mike Sides, Phil McClintock, and Ryan Childress had a lot of laughs their final year of tennis.

Rolling chocolate into a tasty treat and wrapping it in a neat wrapper is a great idea and results in Tootsie Rolls. The girls soccer team knows how to roll the ball down the field and wrap it neatly in the goal for another score. They have really given their toughest competition some challenges this year and their victories keep rolling in. With that said, what better candy to title this page than the great tasting Tootsie Roll.

Since the dawn of time, people have been finding ways to satisfy their candy cravings. From Laffy Taffy and Tootsie Rolls to Shocktarts and Reeses Pieces, the competition to make the best candy has proved most rewarding. The same competitive spirit and numerous rewards are seen in this year's Senior class, and their families honor their accomplishments in these pages.

Left: Meghan Eramo, Kristin McFarland, Autumn Shurley, and Ciaira McDaniels are having a "hoppin'" good time at the Fifth Grade Soda Pop Rock.

Right: Micheal Cory watches and gives advice as Frank Hebert demonstrates how to connect the wires to a battery for science class.

Mrs. Reynolds's Fifth grade class is excited that it is Picture Day, and even more excited that they are out of class!

Mollee Beth and Lydia Ruth

Where does the time go! When Dad and I got married, we bought your dresses for the wedding and the clerk said, "Oh, twins?" Well, we know better, but you have both grown into beautiful young ladies. Remember life is what you make of it. Memories have been made and more to be made. May the Lord bless and keep you both.

Love the whole family—

Mom, Dad, Cody, Winnie Poo, Biscuit, Garth, and Emma

Holli—

You have grown into a truly wonderful young woman. We are all very proud of you and wish you all the luck and happiness you deserve. Keep your eyes on the goals you have set and nothing can stop you.

We Love You Very Much!!

When you came to Neosho, you took advantage of your opportunities. You went into areas which you weren't real comfortable and excelled. You forged lifelong friendships. You became a leader. You've mentored your brother. You've rarely disappointed us. Keep moving forward. Challenge the status quo. Pursue your dreams. We'll continue to be there for you. Congratulations on your many achievements.

Love,

Michael Abruzzo

Words cannot express how very proud we are of you! We knew from day one that you would go far in life.

You, with your beautiful brown eyes that always see the good in every situation; your infectious laugh that is truly from the heart; and your strong faith makes you the Michael we love so very much. You have made life a complete joy!

May God forever bless you and guide you. Keep Him first in your life always.

We love you more than you can ever know!
Mom & Dad

Christin.

Words cannot describe how proud we are of you! The moment you were born and we nicknamed you "Precious"; you have always been just that! God blessed us with you and we thank Him for you every day. We have watched you become a beautiful young lady inside and out. Your compassion for others and humble spirit, your sense of humor and sensitivity are wonderful. Be yourself; the world will benefit from your talent and humor. God bless you and watch over you and keep you safe. We love you.

Jenni.
Congratulations! We are so proud of the wonderful person you have become.
From a very young age, you have had the bubbly personality and giving heart. You just brighten up the room when you enter. These are the best qualities we could have asked for in you.

Keep up the positive attitude and you will accomplish anything you set out to do.

We love you.

Mom, Dad, and Matthew

Travis,

You've been a very special person right from the start. You've made lots of hard, tough choices and for that, you and I can be very proud. Keep your goal to become the man of God that He intends for you to be and you'll always be a success!

Love you.

Love, Mom

Echo,

Time has gone by so fast. It seems like only yesterday that you started kindergarten and now you are getting ready for college! You have come so far in these thirteen years, but we know you will only go farther. Your determination will continue to benefit you in your future. We hope you know how much we love you and how extremely proud of you we are.
You will always have our support and love. We wish you the very best in all of your future adventures and hope that all of your dreams come true.
Congratulations on your accomplishments! With all of our love,

Mom, Dad, & Wayde

Megan Frencken

From a precious baby girl to a beautiful young woman, you have been the joy of our lives. You have inspired us as we watched you strive for goals most would find too far to reach. Follow your dreams and you will achieve great things. Your life has only just begun and the world is there for you to experience and explore.
We love you.

Mom, Pat, Colton and Nick

Josh,

You are such a joy in my life! My precious boy has grown into such a great young man. Who would've guessed that the guitar in your hand as a toddler would become your passion as a teenager. Reach for the stars, your dreams will come. Your whole family is so proud of you!

We love you very much.

Mom, Dad, & Jordan

Shannon Kline and Ryan Childress are excited to trick-or-treating with Joe Adams and his beautiful Halloween costume.

Life is not always just, kind, or fair, as you well know. However, life is what you make of it. Thus far, Jason, you made us complete because you fill our lives with joy and love. We are so proud of the man you have become. Your future now begins - Soar with open wings, knowing who you are, your goals, and aspirations. We cherish the memories and look forward to sharing all those to come in your bright future. May God keep you enveloped with love and safety. We love you so very much, son and brother.
Love, Mom, Dad, Brittany, Matthew, Jessica, and Jennifer

Alex,

Congratulations on your graduation from high school. We can't believe it's gone by so fast. You've made us very proud and we love you very much. You've always been our little star. SHINE ON!

Love,
Mom, Dad, & Kris

We are so proud of you Nick!
What a nice young man you have grown into.
You are so considerate of everyone and pleasant to be around.
You will go far in life and we wish you all the happiness & success that you deserve.
We love you so much!!!
Mom, Dick, Nate, Cali & Victor

MATT ~18 HERE WE ARE AT A NEW CROSSROAD IN YOUR LIFE. YOU HAVE GIVEN US 18 YRS OF MEMORIES AND PRIDE. WE COULD NOT ASK FOR A BETTER SON. WE HAVE SUCH GOOD MEMORIES OF BALL GAMES AND TRIPS AND EVERYTHING ELSE WE HAVE DONE TOGETHER. YOU HAVE MET MANY "GOALS" AND HAVE MANY MORE GOALS TO MEET. MAY GOD ALWAYS BE YOUR GUIDE AND IF YOU FOLLOW HIS PLAN FOR YOU, YOU WILL NEVER FAIL. WE LOVE YOU SO MUCH AND WE'RE SO PROUD OF YOU.
DAD AND MOM

Phil,

We are so proud of you. You have excelled not only in sports, but academics as well. We have watched you grow into the leader we knew you could be. Continue to put God first and we will watch you excell in life as well.

Can you remember the first time you tasted something sweet? Parents can often recall the look on your face when they put something like icecream or a cookie in your mouth when you were a baby. You were probably a little curious and anxious at first, but once your tongue wrapped itself around the flavor you realized you had just experienced something wonderful and new. Now you may have favorites, cravings, adictions, or a complete aversion to all sweets. Regardless, these are memories of your past and have helped to shape your future. You may remember a time when you shared some M & Ms or Skittles with your best friends on the benches instead of eating lunch, or when you hoarded a whole package of chocolate, all to yourself, after a game while your teammates begged you for one small piece. Maybe you will always think of a paticular event or person when you see a Snickers or strawberry Twizzlers. Just as some candies will always be thought of as favorites, so will some memories of high school and friends be your favorites as well.
